THREE TORNADOES HIT NEW ORLEANS

Loss of Life and Immense Damage to Property Reported.

STORMS ARE FREAKS

Tornado That Traveled City in a Narrow Path and Not Many in City Knew of Its Presence.

New Orleans, Oct. 5.—Three separate tornadoes struck New Orleans and vicinity today, causing loss of life and great property damage in sections which a week ago today were more or less devastated by the gulf hurricane.

The first tornado was at Pont Chatoula, La., about fifty miles north of here, the second in New Orleans and the third near Biloxi, Miss., about half way between here and Mobile, on the gulf coast.

The tornado at Pont Chatoula struck the southern end of the town about 7 o'clock in the morning. Geo. Hawes was killed in his home, which was blown down, and his wife and four children were badly injured. Three negroes were also reported killed at Pont Chatoula.

The Second Tornado.

The second tornado appeared in New Orleans soon after 8 o'clock, ripping a narrow path through five miles of the city's residence and business section and doing $500,000 damage. No lives were lost here, but one negro was probably fatally injured by a freight car which overturned upon him and half a hundred other persons were injured, eleven of whom were taken to hospitals.

The third tornado passed seven miles northwest of Biloxi, Miss., where it overturned an engine and three cars belonging to the Dantzler Lumber company, slightly injuring the engineer and fireman. Immense trees, which withstood last Thursday's hurricane, were uprooted in this section.

The fact that today's tornadoes followed so closely last week's catastrophe was responsible for reports immediately following the storms that about twenty lives had been lost in the city and surrounding country.

Loss of Life Reported.

A report was brought on from the neighborhood of Lake Pontchatoain, outside of the city limits, that lives had been lost there. Later the death of a man named Howes was reported at the lake, but these reports lack confirmation. Although several deaths were reported in New Orleans immediately after the storm, investigation showed that probably not a life was lost here.

Many of the injuries occurred near Roberts street and the river front, where the Columbus Oil mill and the Jefferson Saw mill were badly damaged. A woman and child were injured by the blowing down of a house. From St. Charles the wind proceeded straight ahead to Marengo and Carondelet streets, where it veered sharply to the northward and in this direction passed from the city. The path of the tornado through the city was from forty to fifty feet wide.

A Peculiar Feature.

A peculiar feature of the disturbance in the city was the fact that few persons within half a mile of the tornado's path knew there had been a storm and the local U. S. weather bureau received first intimation of a tornado from a newspaper reporter.

Forcaster I. M. Cline said the tornado was probably a local disturbance.

Buildings unroofed included the St. Elizabeth convent on Napoleon avenue, the New Orleans Furniture company at the foot of Bell Castle street, the Jai Alai Roller Skating rink and the gas works, at the corner of Poydras and Magnolia streets. At the gas works a standpipe was blown down.

Other buildings damaged included the St. Stephen's church (Roman Catholic), a market house in process of construction at Toledano and Saratoga streets, and the two mills previously mentioned. About twenty-five small houses and cabins were either rendered untenable or blown down completely. A week ago today New Orleans suffered damage from the gulf coast hurricane.

WOMEN GATHER IN STATE CONVENTION

INDIANA W. C. T. U. IN SESSION IN PORTLAND.

Three Hundred Women Were Present at the Opening Meeting—Reports are Presented.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 5.—Every train and car entering the city today brought its load of delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention, which opened for a five days' session. Mrs. Culla J. Baylinger, of Madison, state president, presided.

Three hundred women were present at this morning's session.

The features of the afternoon session today were the report of Miss Lizzie Hann, president of the board of control of the Hadley industrial home, which is under the control of the union, and the annual address of the state president.

Constable Michael Kennelly, who has been very ill for three weeks, is improving and will soon be out.

W. A. Jones, of this city, was called to Monroeville today by the serious illness of his mother.

BEVERIDGE LAUDS BRYAN AS A MAN

INDIANA SENATOR PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEBRASKAN.

He Denounces Abuse of Democratic Leader, Whom He Calls an Idealist.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5.—A misguided martyr, righteous, but not right, is Senator Albert J. Beveridge's definition of William J. Bryan. An achiever of ideals is his definition of President Roosevelt, who, he believes, is as great an idealist and dreamer as Bryan.

Senator Beveridge analyzed the two men, comparatively and quantitatively, in a speech delivered here last night in the interest of the republican congressional and state tickets. He analyzed also Bryan's dream of government ownership to the end that the day never would dawn in this country when it might be realized.

Senator Beveridge said:

"I have no patience with the abuse of Mr. Bryan. Mistaken in policy, he is yet a hero of conscience. At St. Louis he refused to sell his moral birthright for a mess of pottage. Surrounded there by the master manipulators of an unrighteous cabal that sought to snare and thought to fool the American people, he refused to submit and trampled beneath his feet their offers of influence and power. And today he is the same undismayed soldier of conviction, choosing to utter his thought however it may shatter his fortunes.

"This is the stuff out of which is made great preachers and reformers. Such was Peter the Hermit; such Rienzi; such Robespierre and Danton; such was Patrick Henry and Wendell Phillips. But such have never been nor never can be the statesmen of a people. There is in them so much of poetry, so much of fanaticism; there is so much of the dreamer, so much of the martyr, that, while they see splendid visions and dream grand dreams, they cannot make those visions realities or bring those dreams to pass.

Bryan Righteous but Not Right.

"And yet these men are needed by humanity. Always among the people there should be the voice of protest: Mr. Bryan is superbly that. Always in free institutions there should be the critic and the objector; Mr. Bryan is supremely that. Always unrest should have its advocates; Mr. Bryan is grandly that.

"And so tonight, conceding, nay, gladly asserting, the morality, courage, and fidelity to what he believes best for the people, I only question the soundness of Mr. Bryan's views. He is righteous, but not right. In the minority he and his followers are useful; in the majority he and his followers, intending to work out good, would work out ruin."

"The true statesman has the divine gift of achievement, the noble art of getting things done. . . . And such a man is he who in five years has got more things done for the people's good than even Mr. Bryan's fertile brain ever thought of; who has accomplished more reforms than were ever wrought in the same time in our history; who is this moment in the midst of the mighty work the people have given him to do, and who today, with strength, justice, and righteousness, is leading the American people onward to a fuller practical realization of their hopes, the president of the American people—of all the American people—Theodore Roosevelt.

Roosevelt Dreamer and Doer, Too.

"Theodore Roosevelt has been able to do what he has done because, like Mr. Bryan, he is an idealist, but, unlike Mr. Bryan, he is a man of affairs; because he has courage as high as Nebraska's great radical, a conscience as sensitive but a skill and experience with men that enables him to use for the people's good the qualities of human nature as he finds them; and a wisdom which compounds for the welfare of the people not only the strength but also the defects of those with whom he works.

"It is just the difference between the dreamer and the achiever. Both are necessary, both pure, both devoted to the republic. But one is the administrator; the other is the objector."

Addressing himself to the subject of government ownership, Senator Beveridge said:

"Government ownership is wrong because it is not a principle which can be applied to all industry, which, like the railways, affect all the people; government supervision is right because it does apply to all industries, which, like the railways, are so great that they affect the people. Government ownership is wrong because it is fatal to individual initiative; government supervision is right because it preserves individual initiative but prevents individual abuses."

ITALIAN WOMEN IN FIERCE RIOT

STORM BROOKLYN SCHOOL TO GET THEIR LITTLE ONES.

"Murder Doctors" Reported to Be Cutting Throats—Board of Health Was Making Inspections.

New York, Oct. 5—Believing that the "murder doctors," as they called the board of health physicians, were cutting the throats of their children in a public school in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, 1,500 women, nearly all of them Italians, stormed the school building in a mad effort to reach the little ones today. Before the riot had been quelled several policemen had been seriously injured by the infuriated women and one of the women rioters had been arreested.

For several days physicians of the board of health have been examining the eyes and throats of the pupils. A contagious affection of the eyes had spread from the homes of the Italians in the vicinity of the school and the doctors were directed to make an investigation to learn the cause and to exterminate the disease.

PLEA OF GUILTY NOW WITHDRAWN

Man Who Admitted Killing Garrett Woman to Get Trial By Jury.

INSANITY IS ALLEGED

Declaration of Black That His Real Name is Kendall Verified By Telegram from Iowa.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 5.—Judge Bratton in the DeKalb circuit court this afternoon granted the motion of attorneys for Edward Black, charged with the murder of Mattie Cannon at Garrett in August, to withdraw the plea of guilty entered by the prisoner yesterday afternoon, and to substitute a plea of not guilty. The case will now be tried by a jury, and the defendant's attorneys will set up as a plea in defense the alleged unsoundness of mind of the accused man. The date for the trial has not been fixed, but it will occur very soon.

Today's action follows close upon the appearance of Black in court Thursday afternoon, when in response to the reading of the grand jury's indictment charging murder in the first degree he entered a plea of guilty, declared he did not want the assistance of counsel and announced himself ready to take his punishment without further trial.

Statement Is Verified.

Prior to his appearance in court Black had made a signed confession in his cell to Editor J. Howard Wagner, of the Auburn Courier, in which he admitted the killing of the woman and also declared that his real name was not Edward Black, but Abbott Alexander Kendall, and that he had a half-brother, Nathan Kendall, a lawyer at Albia, Iowa. Today Mr. Wagner telegraphed the Iowa man asking if he had a half-brother of the name given by the prisoner, and received the following reply: "Had a brother by that name years ago. Have not heard from him for many years. Write."

Today's action in the circuit court followed a long conference held this morning between Black and his attorneys, D. D. Moody and W. W. Sharpless.

It Was Sensational.

Black's appearance in court yesterday was sensational in the extreme, and presented a situation most unique in the criminal annals of DeKalb county. Brought into court by Deputy Sheriff Raub, the prisoner was the most calm and collected man in the audience, being apparently totally oblivious to the serious character of the charge against him. When the indictment returned by the grand jury charging him with murder in the first degree was read to him and he was asked to plead to the charge, Black hastily, yet deliberately replied:

"I am guilty."

Judge Bratton questioned the prisoner at some length, and Black reiterated his determination to maintain the plea of guilty, declaring that he could not deny the crime. He said he did not care to have his attorneys make a defense for him, and signified his entire willingness to leave the matter of his punishment to Judge Bratton instead of submitting it to a jury. Judge Bratton finally announced that he would enter the plea of guilty, but that he would take under advisement the matter of punishment.

Black's Signed Confession.

The signed confession in which Black admits the killing of the Cannon woman and later declares that his name is in fact not Edward Black but Abbott Alexander Kendall, is as follows:

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 3, 1906.

This is my confession:

First Sin—I did swear and curse at Jesus, my God.

Second Sin—I did write letters to Mattie to come back to my house.

Third Sin—And I did cohabit with Mattie in my house.

Fourth Sin—Then I did kill her.

(Signed) Edward Black.

After acknowledging that this was the statement he would make to the court, making oath upon bended knee and calling upon his God to witness the truth of his statement, Black further said:

In view of the investigation and my coming trial for the murder of which I am guilty, I am ready to disclose to the world my true name, which I have not used for many years. I was born in Lucas county, Iowa. Soon after my father's return from the civil war he and my mother were divorced, leaving her with two children, myself and a sister by the name of Anna. Anna married a man named Dowling, who lives in Beaver City, Neb. My father married again and had a son, my half-brother, who is a successful lawyer at Albia, Iowa, whom I have not seen for fifteen years.

My mother married a man named Benjamin Watkins, with whom she moved to Pattonsburg, Mo. To them were born four children, three boys and one girl. There my mother died some years ago. Leaving there and not wishing to be followed by or burdened with the care of my half-brothers and sisters, I came to Indiana, locating in Garrett. There I gave the name of Edwin Black, and it is by that name I have been known ever since and it was in that name I held the property I owned in that city. I simply changed my name so that my relations could not find me.

In conclusion and after fully considering the statements above made I voluntarily affix my true name, which is,

Abbott Alexander Kendall.

Attorney D. D. Moody, one of the counsel for Black, after adjournment of court indicated his purpose to go into court and request that a special plea of not guilty be entered for his client, and that a defense of insanity be set up in his behalf. Mr. Moody believes that Black is mentally irresponsible.

Invitations have been received in this city for the marriage of Miss Marie Hirsh, formerly of Fort Wayne, to Sam Stokes, of Nashville, on October 13, at the home of Miss Hirsh's parents in Cincinnati.

EXPLOSION OF GAS IN PHILADELPHIA

Seven Persons Killed and Many Hurt and Part of Subway Wrecked.

GAS ACCUMULATIONS

Faulty Fitting of Mains Cause of Big Gas Pocket—Immense Damage to Property in Vicinity.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5.—A terrific explosion of illuminating gas in the subway of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company under construction at Sixth and Market streets today resulted in the death of six men, the injury of about a dozen others and caused property damage that will run into thousands of dollars. Besides the seven men that are known to be dead it is said that at least three others are buried under tons of earth in the wrecked subway. Extraordinary efforts are being made to clear the explosion but it will be late in the day before this can be accomplished.

Three Dead Identified.

Three of the seven known dead have been identified. They are:

John Lawless, foreman for the Millard Construction company.

Frank Leans, an employe of the United Gas Improvement company, who was to assist in repairing the leaking gas main.

R. Capero, a timberman.

Of those injured the most serious is Miss Mary Crow, who was struck by a plank while riding in a street car that had passed the subway a moment before the explosion. She is in a critical condition.

The explosion aws caused by a leak in a city gas main that had been improperly repaired. The escaping gas formed in a pocket in the subway and it is believed that a workman carrying a lamp into the great hole ignited the gas. The corner of Sixth and Market streets is one of the busy sections of the city but there were fortunately little traffic there when the explosion occurred.

About a dozen workmen were gathered near a large dock and five men are believed to have been in the subway.

Wrecked Subway Half a Block.

The force of the explosion wrecked the subway for half a block and all the heavy timbering and other structural work, including tons of earth, fell into the excavation.

A heavy rain during the night had slightly weakened the walls of the excavation and added to the damage.

Just as the gas blew up a double team dirt cart was being driven across the covered subway by a driver of the Millard Construction company, which is building the subway. The vehicle, horses and man were blown high in the air and the horses and cart fell into the hole. The driver landed in the street and was only slightly hurt.

Several of the workmen who were standing near the derrick were blown across the street, another killed and injured, and a number of pedestrians were hurt by falling glass and signs from the tall business houses on both sides of Market and Sixth streets.

Flames Burst Forth.

Those portions of the subway that were not covered with dirt burst into flames and for a time no person dared venture near the place for fear of further explosions.

Firemen were quickly on the spot but water was of little use, owing to the fact that the flames were shooting from dozens of gas pipes and a large gas main.

Dirt was then resorted to and in the course of two hours all the flames had been extinguished except those from the large main.

This was not put out until nearly 10 o'clock and only after a hole had been dug in the street near the subway and the main plugged up.

As soon as the fire had been extinguished and all danger of a further explosion had passed hundreds of men were put to work clearing out the wrecked subway.

Damage in Vicinity Heavy.

While the damage done to the subway, to the city's gas and water mains and the electric light and telephone conduits is considerable, it will not compare with the destruction wrought to surrounding property.

From Fifth street to Seventh street on Market street and for half a square on Sixth street, both north and south of Market street, not a whole pane of glass is left. All the large plate glass windows were broken and thousands of dollars worth of goods in the show windows were damaged.

Dozens of signs were torn from the roofs and walls of buildings and it is considered remarkable that not more persons were killed. The vicinity of the explosion is roped off and business within the affected area is temporarily suspended.

LAWYERS SECURE QUEER EVIDENCE

Sam Augsburger's Body Exhumed at Columbia City and Photographed.

MATTER KEPT QUIET

Attorneys for Laughlin and Kennedy Both Present With Their Physicians.

The body of Samuel Augsburger, who was killed in John Kennedy's saloon, at Lafayette and Wallace streets, on Sept. 6, was exhumed at Columbia City this morning and photographs taken to be used in the trial of Charles Lachlin, who is charged jointly with Kennedy with having inflicted the blow that caused death.

Attorney Elmer Leonard and Dr. W. W. Barnett, represented Laughlin and George W. Louttit, one of the attorneys for Kennedy, with Dr. B. F. Ladd, was also present and the photographs were taken by E. F. Perrey, of this city.

Parties in interest would not disclose the object in view in removing the body from the grave as any statement would probably reveal their lines of defense, but the location of the fracture and the other injuries sustained will be important factors in fixing the crime and the production of photographs in the course of the trial will serve to locate them exactly.

Decomposition had set in and the head and face, which were photographed, had turned black and begun to slough, but the photographer was able to get a plate from which he expects to produce negatives that will fully serve the purposes of the defense when the case comes to trial.

Arrangements to exhume the body have been in progress for several days as the permission of the relatives had to be obtained before the directors of the cemetery in which the burial was had would consent to the proposition of the lawyers. There was little difficulty in securing the consent and every effort was made to avoid publicity.

The party left Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock this morning and the grave had been opened when it arrived at the burial ground. All except Mr. Leonard returned at noon and this afternoon a long consultation was held with Dr. Barnett, who was present also at the post mortem, in the interest of Laughlin.

The introduction of the photographs in the trial of the cases will be something novel in the criminal history of Allen county, but they will serve better than any description to enable the jurors to locate the wounds and will in all probability be of great assistance in determining who struck the blow that resulted in Augsburger's death.

THIS SHOULD HOLD PAT FOR AWHILE

HEARST TELLS M'CARREN HE IS NOT BROOKLYN PUBLIC.

Will Go Ahead With Independent Judiciary Ticket Despite Warning of the Boss.

Chatham, N. Y., Oct. 5.—William R. Hearst, democratic and independent candidate for governor, had his attention called today to a published statement by P. H. McCarren, democratic organization leader of Brooklyn, that if Mr. Hearst persists in having independence league candidates nominated in Kings county there will be a plurality of 75,000 against him in Brooklyn.

"The question of whether Brooklyn goes 75,000 one way or the other is for the citizens of Brooklyn to decide and not for McCarren to decide," said Mr. Hearst. "I have the utmost consideration for the wishes of the citizens of Brooklyn and none whatever for the wishes of Mr. McCarren. In placing an independent ticket in the field in Brooklyn we are doing what we believe to be for the best interests of the citizens of Brooklyn. Mr. McCarren, by calling himself a democrat does not make himself a democrat. If he should call himself an honest man it would not make him an honest man. If he should call his ticket a good ticket it would not make it a good ticket. As a matter of fact, the McCarren ticket is notoriously unfit and should not command the support of honest democrats or honest independents.

"I am a democrat, but a Jefferson democrat, not a corporation democrat, and I cannot allow a hired agent of the corporations like McCarren, to define my democracy or dictate unworthy candidates for me to support."

HOLDS ANOTHER SESSION.

Committee in New Effort to Settle Interest Question.

The committee composed of the presidents of the national banks and trust companies of the city went into session at the offices of the Old National bank this afternoon in another effort to get together on the interest question. Prior to the meeting nobody was willing to hazard a prediction on the result of the conference.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS.

The condition of Andrew J. Feldhiser, who is serving a term in jail for assaulting his wife, is serious and he may be removed to the county infirmary. He had two hemorrhages yesterday and is now a patient in the hospital ward.

GETS SOME DETAIL OF BRYAN MEETING

CHAIRMAN HOFFMAN IS HOME FROM INDIANAPOLIS.

Democratic Leader Reaches Fort Wayne 6 O'clock, October 24—Other Political Chat.

E. G. Hoffman, democratic county chairman, returned last evening from Indianapolis, where in conference with the party speakers' committee Mr. Hoffman obtained some further information upon the visit of Hon. W. J. Bryan to Fort Wayne October 24. Mr. Bryan, traveling in a special car, will reach Fort Wayne at 6 o'clock on that evening, coming from Columbia City, where he delivers a brief address earlier in the day. Following the Princess rink address at 8 o'clock Mr. Bryan will proceed to Ohio to make a number of speeches. He will be accompanied to Fort Wayne by State Chairman O'Brien, Chairman Hendren, of the speakers' committee, and a number of other prominent Indiana democrats. Fort Wayne is the last Indiana appointment of the great commoner during the present campaign.

* * *

Examination of the law has convinced Twelfth district republican leaders that the proposed plan to nominate Clarence C. Gilhams for congress for the short term by petition as was originally intended, would prove entirely too combersome, and District Chairman Bicknell has called a convention to make the nomination in the regular way. The convention will meet in the court house assembly room in this city at 1:30 o'clock on Thursday, October 11, and the delegates will be the same as those who served at the regular convention in June. Had the petition plan been adhered to, it would have been necessary to have secured five hundred signatures to the petition, and the document would have to have been carried from county to county to secure the required number of signatures, the law prohibiting more than a single copy of the petition being presented for signatures.

* * *

For a few brief moments Hon. W. J. Bryan will be in Fort Wayne on October 23, the day prior to the delivery of his address in this city. On that day Mr. Bryan speaks at Huntington, and he will come to Fort Wayne in a special interurban car and will proceed at once to Bluffton without a stop in this city.

FIVE ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

DISASTROUS RAIL COLLISION IN NEW YORK STATE.

Many Persons Injured in Crash of Trains—Husband Loses His Bride of a Day.

Lansingburgh, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Fred L. Block, of Schipper & Block, of Peoria, Ill., proprietor of the largest department store in Illinois outside of Chicago, and four other passengers were killed outright and a score were injured in a rear-end collision between a regular passenger train and a military special on the Boston and Maine railroad directly in front of the Lansingburgh depot, north of Troy, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Fred L. Block was among the seriously injured. It is believed her spine is fractured. The dead are:

Fred L. Block, Peoria, Ill.
Mrs. Wallace E. Shaw, Bath, Me.
Mrs. Stevens, Boston, Mass.
Mrs. J. W. Dacey, Arlington, Mass.
Mrs. H. S. Poole, Concord, N. H.

Collision Without Warning.

The collision occurred at a heavy grade and sharp curve. The passenger train was one that leaves Boston daily at 9:30 a. m. for Albany. It consisted of five cars, a baggage car, smoker, day coach and two parlor cars, and was about an hour late when it reached Lansingburgh station, waiting there for a chance to get into the Troy depot.

Without, apparently, any warning the special of eighteen cars came thundering along and crashed into the passenger train, smashing the last two cars, which were Pullmans, like egg shells. Both these cars were swept from the track and rolled down the embankment. The engine of the special kept on for a dozen yards and then "turned turtle," the front end plowing into the ground and the car behind being telescoped by the tender.

The special was drawing four troops of the Fourteenth United States cavalry from Ft. Ethan Allen to Newport News, where they are to embark for Cuba. The soldiers quickly got to work to rescue the injured.

Loses Bride of a Day.

Many of the passengers on the regular had left the train when it came to a standstill and were pacing up and down the track when the crash came. One man's grief was pitiable. His name was J. W. Dacey and he ran up and down the track crying for his wife. In a few minutes her lifeless form was identified. They had been married the night before at Arlington, Mass., and were on their honeymoon, having planned an extended trip.

Mr. Block, who was also interested in a number of banking institutions of Peoria, together with his wife, left Peoria about three weeks ago for a trip through the east for his health. He was about 50 years of age and is survived by his widow, two sons, Carl and Hayl, and one daughter, Miss Anna Block.

INJURED ARE DOING WELL.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The injured in the Boston and Maine railroad wreck at Lansingburgh yesterday afternoon and in the hospitals here number twenty-one and of the entire list all are doing well except Mrs. F. L. Block, of Peoria, Ill., whose condition is precarious.

PRESIDENT PALMA PANIC STRICKEN

Had Definitely Appealed to Washington Seeking Intervention.

DISPLAYED WEAKNESS

Before He Had Tried Mettle of Rebels He Was Ready to Give Up and Squeal for Help.

Havana, Oct. 5.—None of ex-President Palma's intimates, save the cabinet officers, his private secretary and Consul General Reinhart, had any knowledge of Palma's communication in September to the government at Washington and the greatest surprise is manifested at the fact that Palma actually suggested intervention as a solution.

Vice-President Mendez Capote, as an attorney had privately advised certain foreign corporations that in his opinion the necessity for intervention was imminent, but that Palma had asked outright for intervention was not intimated by anybody. It was well known that Palma was nervous and fearful, but it was not generally believed that he was so ready to give up, although it had often been rumored that he was weakening.

Nunez Saw Palma Daily.

General Nunez, who visited Palma daily perhaps as often as anyone excepting the vice-president and cabinet officers, said today that he thought it very strange that Palma had taken such a step without informing him. He did not wish to express an opinion of the ex-president's action, but it was certainly all the more strange in view of the fact that the government felt and had every reason to believe that it was fully abl to control the situation without American assistance. Nunez believed the government forces could have successfully resisted an attack on Havana and that with its increasing army the government could have eventually suppressed the rebellion.

The prevalent comment now is that Palma gave way to panic in a far greater degree than was indicated in his call upon Mr. Sleeper, the American charge d' affaires at Havana, and Commander Colwell to land the United States cruiser Denver's sailors.

Guerra Calls on Taft.

Governor Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, while awaiting the completion of the disarming of the insurgents are the recipients of many calls. Among the visitors today was General Pino Guerra, who was summoned to the palace by Mr. Taft, who desired to send him to Aguacate, in the eastern part of Havana province, to arrange the disarming of the insurgent force commanded by General Montero. Mr. Guerra readily complied and started on a special train for Aguacate, where he will lend the force of his leadership and example toward the rapid and complete disbandment of the insurgents.

WILL WITHDRAW BIG SHIPS.

Large War Vessels Are Serving No Good Purpose in Cuba.

Washington, Oct. 5.—It is expected that the largest ships of the American fleet, if not all of them, will be withdrawn from Cuban waters as soon as there is sufficient army force landed to afford security to the provisional government and the protection of property interests. The ships themselves, it is stated at the department, do not afford any protection to Cuban interests save as being quick transports and barracks for the blue jackets and marines, which have been landed on the island.

There is no suggestion that the big guns of the ships or even the smaller batteries would be used against the towns and cities whose harbors are large enough to accommodate naval vessels. Therefore, it is stated at the department, the ships will be ordered to resume the cruises which were interrupted when the rush orders to proceed to Cuba were issued.

Why Magoon Was Sent to Cuba.

The determining factor in the selection of Governor Charles E. Magoon as the privisional governor of Cuba was the fact of his familiarity with all the laws of Cuba and the steps that were taken during the last American occupation to organize a stable government, as it has already been determined that there must be an election and the machinery for the election must be constructed by the provisional governor. Another feature of the work that will devolve on Governor Magoon will be in securing an improvement in the laws of Cuba with regard to the independence of the judiciary. The subserviency of the judicial to the political power is one of the causes of the present trouble. The persons aggrieved over the method of the government had no redress through the judiciary because the judiciary was not granted sufficient independence of the political authorities.

It is the intention of this government, according to officials here, to have such an improvement of the present laws in the next Cuban government as will materially decrease the reasons for revolution and another intervention by the United States.

PECULIAR COURT CONFLICT.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 5.—A peculiar court conflict developed here today. A. K. Haynes was called in the police court to stand trial on a charge of petit larceny, but was unable to appear, being one of the jurors now trying Thomas Dowd for murder. The police court case was continued until the end of the murder trial, when Haynes, who denies the charge against him, will be put on trial.

MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICANS IN CONVENTION.

Governor Curtis Guild and Balance of Present State Officers Renominated by Acclamation.

Boston, Oct. 5.—Ex-Governor John L. Bates was chairman of the republican state convention today.

An incident of the work or organization was a demonstration given Attorney General Moody when he arose to move the appointment of the committee on resolutions.

The platform reported by this committee, after praising the administration of Governor Guild, says:

"We record again our confidence in the courage, wisdom, honesty and patriotism of Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States. Theodore Roosevelt has been a potent influence for the peace of the world, an inspiration for the uplifting of public and private ideals, a wise and successful leader in wholesome legislation in the interest of the whole people.

"We congratulate the country on the completion of the mission of the secretary of state, in which, with signal tact and eloquence, he has made manifest the friendship of our people for the peoples of our sister republics of the South American continent, and our desire for larger social and commercial relations with them. We know that he truly interprets the purposes of all our people, irrespective of party, in his assurance that he wished no victories except those of peace, no territories except our own, no sovereignty except over ourselves."

The resolutions further declare adherence to the policy of protection, the tariff to be revised when the interests of the country require it and urge that representation in congress be reduced in states where there is a suppression of the vote. The "rule of the mob and the atrocious crime which frequently provoked it," are condemned, the resolution continuing:

"We place on record our sincerest sympathy with the suffering and outraged Jews in Poland and Russia, although with a sense of profound humiliation that our own garments are not free from the innocent blood of Americans of African descent."

The platform commends "the efforts of President Roosevelt to devise a just and effective method for building up a strong merchant marine." Opposition is expressed to the ownership of railroads by state or nation.

Ticket Named by Acclamation.

The convention by acclamation renominated the following state officers: Governor, Curtis Guild, jr.; lieutenant governor, Eben S. Draper; secretary of state, William M. Olin; auditor, Henry E. Turner; treasurer and receiver general, Arthur B. Chapin; attorney general, Dana Malone.

In nominating Henry E. Turner for state auditor, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge characterized the coming elections in New York and Massachusetts as the Austerlitz of American politics. "It is no exaggeration to say," he continued, "that these elections will decide whether the government of these two states for the next year shall be American or Cossack. They will determine whether these states shall move along the well tried paths of order and liberty and free representative government or become the prey of fomentors of class hatred and of the outlaws and nomads of politics. The effect of republican defeat this year in these two great states would be felt throughout the country and would shake the business stabilit yand confidence in the future to their very foundations."

BEAUTY LOTION FOR OILY SKIN.

A beauty bath which is effective for oily skin is made from one-half ounce of tincture of benzoin, one dram tincture of musk, two drams tincture of ambergris, two and half ounces rectified spirits and three-quarters of a pint of orange flower water. Add tincture of spirits, then the perfume. This may be applied without diluting, or added to the water in which the face is bathed. To reduce your flesh requires heroic treatment, abstaining from liquids at meals, giving up sweets, fat making vegetables and breakfast cereals; whole wheat bread should be eaten, salads and meat that is not fat. Turkish baths will reduce the flesh quickly and exercises help materially. Long walks should be taken daily.

GOOD SPORT AT ST. JOE BOXING SHOW

"KID" WILSON GETS DECISION OVER "YOUNG" TAYLOR.

Pretty Contest for Ten Rounds—Two Other Good Events and a Battle Royal With Knockout.

"Kid" Wilson won a decision over "Young" Taylor in a ten-round go at the St. Joe Athletic club's arena last evening. It was the second meeting of the two in this city and the splendid drawn battle fought two weeks ago served to attract a huge audience last night. The mill was pretty from the start and while Taylor hardly seemed up to his form of two weeks ago, Wilson, on the other hand, had distinctly improved, both in condition and fighting ability. Taylor showed the same exquisite defense he displayed two weeks ago and his covering was effective at almost all times. But he did not show the same quickness and force in countering that he did in the former meeting. Wilson was better trained and his improved footwork counted for much. That he had practiced assault on Taylor's defense was evident from the first.

Taylor went to the mat three times for ninety per cent of the count, though it seemed clear that twice he was only "stalling" Wilson. In the seventh Taylor gave an exhibition of the form and speed he displayed two weeks ago, but Taylor took it all gamely and his strength was equal to the pace. The award of the fight to Wilson was satisfactory to the crowd.

The biggest crowd that has attended a St. Joe club event was present at the Curling rink last night. Good order prevailed throughout and the program, which was in charge of David C. Stout, was pulled off with commendable expedition. Matchmaker Murberger was the official referee and his work was eminently satisfactory.

"Chick" Long, the local featherweight champion, acquitted himself with great credit in a six-round curtain raiser with Freddie Cahill of Indianapolis, showing speed, science, strength and strategy that properly developed will fit him for any company in his class before long. He had the better of the argument all the way and got the decision on its merits.

"Young" Howard, of Indianapolis, and Jack Ouster, of Louisville, went eight fast rounds to a draw, the work of both being of a highly entertaining variety, with Howard carrying popular sympathy by reason of his opponent overtopping and outreaching him.

In the battle royal, in which five colored artists participated, Prof. Oscar Ridley administered to Prof. John Moten, who looked a champion and carried all the money, a wallop that sent him to dreamland for full five minutes. The battle was worth all the money and worthy the name. The other three in the five-cornered mill were Davidson, Claude Peters and Tom Leonard.

PRESENT PETITION.

Members of the Blackford Law club presented to the county commissioners a petition to be allowed to use the court rooms for moot courts and it will be acted upon tomorrow morning.

The club has held its meetings in the rooms for several years, but had no permission to do so and the commissioners stopped the practice for the reason that they could not set a precedent by allowing the meetings to be held without authority from the board.

CHILI SAUCE.

I think the chili sauce recipe to which you refer is this: To one dozen ripe tomatoes allow four ripe peppers, two large onions, three cups vinegar, two tablespoonfuls salt, two tablespoonfuls each sugar and cinnamon, a teaspoonful cloves. Scald the tomatoes, peel and chop fine. Add the other ingredients and cook gently for an hour or until as thick as desired.

THE MARKETS

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—The wheat market opened quite firm but on liberal offerings soon yielded to the selling pressure. Leading commission houses were the principal sellers. STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 5.—Prices of stocks moved irregularly in the opening dealings on a small volume of business. Canadian Pacific fell 1⅝ and Pennsylvania, Sugar and United States Rubber large fractions. A rise of ¾ in Reading and of ⅞ in Wabash preferred were the only conspicuous gains. The selling orders at the outset were soon disposed of and the bulls finding no effective opposition confronting them bid up prices. The most effective buying was in United States Steel and the high priced railroads including the Harriman and Hill stocks. Eastern stocks reflected little of Reading's strength and Pennsylvania was decidedly heavy.

Prices continued to rise sluggishly except Pennsylvania, which ran off nearly a point on a rumor afterwards contradicted of the death of President Cassatt. Union Pacific advanced 2 points, Toledo, St. Louis & Western 3, Amalgamated Copper 1¾. Bonds were firm.

There was not enough business done between 12 and 1 o'clock to produce any decided change in prices. American Ice Securities went up a point, while Chicago & Alton fell back as much.

Comparatively little interest was shown in the market outside of the action of the transcontinental group of stocks. Amongst these Great Northern preferred figured conspicuously with a rise of 5½ points. Northern Pacific also improved 2¾. Union Pacific 2¾ and St. Paul 2. American Car preferred advanced 1¼ and the United States Steel stocks 1.

The market closed buoyant and very active. The market gained considerably in animation during the final hour. Special stocks made sharp gains and the active list touched the best prices of the day. The rise in Reading and Union Pacific reached 3, General Electric gained 5, Vulcan Detinning preferred 3½, St. Paul and Colorado Fuel 2½, United States Steel and New York Central 2, Delaware & Hudson, Amalgamated Copper, Knickerbocker Ice, Schloss-Sheffield Steel 1½ to 1⅝ and Atlantic Coast Line and Peoples Gas a point. Pullman fell 2.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

The aches and pains of Rheumatism are only symptoms which may be scattered or relieved with liniments, plasters, blisters, etc., or quieted with opiates. As soon as the treatment is left off, however, or there is any exposure to dampness, or an attack of indigestion, the nagging pains, sore muscles and tender places on the flesh return, and the sufferer finds that he has merely checked the symptoms, while the real cause remains in the system. The cause of Rheumatism is a too acid condition of the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak Kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. Waste matter collects in the system each day which nature intends shall be carried off, but when it is left because of a sluggish condition of the system it sours and forms uric and other acids. These are taken up by the blood and carried to all parts of the body to produce the pains and aches of Rheumatism. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by going down into the blood and driving out the cause and making this life stream rich, pure and healthy. When the blood has been purified and built up by S. S. S. the pains and aches pass away, the muscles become soft and elastic, and Rheumatism driven from the system. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CITY BREVITIES

H. D. Stone, of Albion, was in the city yesterday.

Dr. C. E. Barnett has gone to Petoskey, Mich., on professional business.

Miss Irene Cain, of Pinconning, Mich., who has been visiting friends here has returned to her home.

W. M. Griffin has gone to New York to witness the races for the Vanderbilt cup.

The first autumn meeting of the Fort Wayne lodge B. P. O. E. will be held this evening. There will be several candidates initiated and a banquet will follow.

Mrs. Hannah Parker, of Rockwell, Ind., is in the city to attend the funeral of her daughter, Mrs. Guy Parker. Mrs. Edith Crane, of Hagerville, Mo., is also here for the same purpose.

The Fort Wayne Eclectic Medical society will meet this evening at the office of Dr. George A. Barry, 1941 Fairfield avenue.

Prof. Stanley Coulter, of Purdue university, will address the first meeting of the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening.

The Allen County Plowing association will hold its annual meeting next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Caledonian hall. Officers will be elected for next year.

The freshmen of the High school are organizing a football team and expect to play a number of games this season.

Miss Grace Rouen, who was operated on for appendicitis at the St. Joseph hospital two weeks ago, was yesterday removed to the home of her mother, Mrs. Phillips, 512 Fairmount place.

George M. Haffner, secretary of the Indiana Master Bakers' association returned last night from Madison, where he attended the semi-annual convention of the order. While in attendance Mr. Haffner read a paper prepared by Capt. W. F. Geller, of this city, who was unable to be present at the meeting.

The English Lutheran church of the Redeemer will hold its regular monthly business meeting this evening.

COMPANY INCORPORATES.

The Allen County Real Estate company, of this city, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, for the purpose of erecting houses for workingmen. W. F. Graeter, George L. DeWald, Charles F. Pfeiffer, W. R. Seavey and Joseph Bickel are the board of directors. The following officers have been elected:

President—W. F. Graeter.
Vice President—George L. DeWald.
Secretary—Joseph F. Bickel.
Treasurer—Charles F. Pfeiffer.
Attorney —W. H. Shambaugh.

RATHER TAME SCRAP.

The annual scrap between the freshmen and sophomores of the high school was pulled off last evening and was rather a tame affair. The only casualties were a few bloody noses. The fight was over the raising of the class colors over the school building, and after the smoke of battle had cleared away it was seen that the sophomores had a flag raised inside the building, while the freshmen were successful in placing one on the outside. The scrap was declared a draw.

DISSOLVE PARTNERSHIP.

The partnership of Bryson & Lichtenwalter, proprietors of the Corner Barber shop, at Wayne and Calhoun streets, has been dissolved, Albert Lichtenwalter retiring and Charles B. Bryson hereafter conducting the business alone. Mr. Lichtenwalter will spend a month resting, after which he will embark in some business.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

John Prizer, a saloonkeeper at Boyertown, Pa., was nipped on the thumb by an oyster, while he was in the act of drowning the bivalve in a soup. Prizer's thumb was put out of commission, and surgeons had to give it a good deal of attention.

During the Esperantist conference at Geneva, Switzerland, a Protestant service was conducted in the new language and the first Protestant sermon was preached in Esperanto, in the ancient church near the Cathedral of St. Peter's, in the hall where John Knox listened to Calvin's lessons.

The bicycle is now a favorite means of transportation in South Africa, to which place hundreds of discarded wheels are shipped by jobbers who buy them up in America and England. The natives take kindly to them, and these Zulus in their simple costume are full of pride in their possession.

Dr. Kenealy's speech in the English Tichborne trial lasted 110 days, but the longest continuous talk is supposed to have been achieved in the legislature of British Columbia, when a member, who was in a minority of one, succeeded in "talking out" a bill by speaking twenty-six hours without intermission.

The curious piglike animal known as the babirussa has most remarkable tusks, which have long perplexed all students of animal life. As far as can be discovered, these tusks are useless to their owner. On the other hand, by collecting tufts of straw, grass and litter of all kinds, they seem to be an intolerable nuisance.

The St. John's Ambulance association has placed a number of first aid cabinets in the streets of Leicester, England. The cabinets are kept locked, but readily can be opened by breaking a glass door in the same way as fire alarms. They contain splints, bandages, and smelling salts, as well as other first aid appliances.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Hubby—It's lucky I did not meet Miss Popkins before I married you, my dear.
Wifey—Well, yes, it is extremely lucky for her.

Catskill Preserves—An old Catskill preserve is made of plums and maple sugar. Melt the maple sugar in a little water, allowing one pound of sugar for one pound of plums. When melted put in the plums and cook slowly until tender. This gives a tart sweetness agreeable to many palates.

Preserved Apples—Weigh equal quantities of good brown sugar and of apples; peel, core and mince them small. Boil the sugar, allowing to every three pounds a pint of water. Skim it well and boil it pretty thick, then add the apples, the grated peel of two lemons and two or three pieces of white ginger. Boil this mixture until the apples fall and look clear and yellow. This preserve will keep for years.

Cream of Sago Soup—Wash half a cupful of sago and cook it clear in one quart of water; add a few sprigs of parsley, a stalk of celery and one small green onion tied together with thread. When the sago is clear dip out the greens, add one level teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of cayenne; stir well, then add one pint of sweet hot milk. Beat the yolk of one egg until light, add half a cupful of rich milk. Draw the saucepan to the back of the stove, add the egg, stir well and serve.

Artichoke Omelet—Heat one-half cupful of cooked and thinly sliced artichoke bottoms with one tablespoonful of onion juice, half a teaspoonful of minced parsley, one saltspoonful of salt, shake of pepper and a grating of nutmeg. When the omelet is cooked place a layer of the artichokes over the top, fold over and serve as usual.

In the village of Grazie, near Mantua, one of the present pope's brothers does duty as a postman. The other day a burglar entered his room, but was caught by him in the act of opening his desk, and handed over to the carabinieri.

Your Uncle John D. gives it as his unbiased and disinterested opinion that we are getting too confounded much national regulation as it is.

The president's Harrisburg speech is distinct notice served on lawless wealth that bad as the last session of congress was for plutocrats the worst is yet to come.

Perhaps the reason Senator Platt is not going to resign is that he is about as busy as he can be trying to keep out of the way of a wife who is trying hard to see him.

William R. Hearst appears to have encountered somewhat greater difficulties in carrying the democratic convention of Massachusetts than fell to his lot in the Buffalo convention. However, he finally triumphed, which, if omens count for aught, should switch the betting odds somewhat.

County Auditor Smith, in reply to the partisan demand that the "county auditor be audited," declares that there is nothing in his office he wishes to conceal and invites any citizen who wants to make investigation of the books and other records of his office to feel perfectly free to do so. Dr. Smith says he will afford every facility in his power to any investigator. Dr. Smith has proved himself a capable official and he has always stood high in the esteem of the people of the county for his honorable character and fitness for public place. It is to be doubted if any intelligent person seriously believes there is any reason for an investigation or that if there were one it would disclose anything to the discredit of Auditor Smith.

Senator Beveridge magnanimously pays to William J. Bryan the tribute of admitting that he is an honest man, a good man, a great man—almost as great as one other who might be mentioned but shall here be nameless. He concedes Mr. Bryan's patriotism, but asserts that the Nebraskan is a dreamer who dreams too high and perhaps too much. At the same time, the senior senator from Indiana must be given credit for his manly deprecation of the partisan abuse to which Mr. Bryan has been and still is subjected.

The democrats of Massachusetts have nominated for governor District Attorney Moran, the district attorney at Boston. Moran is of that type of men who are coming much to the front in latter day politics. He wanted to be the candidate for district attorney in Boston a year ago, but the bosses of the party turned him down. Then he went forth on his own account and waged such a fight for the nomination as won him a triumph and his earnest but breezy campaign gave him the election. He is of the do-something sort, an enemy to graft, corruption and bossism and a man of fine intelligence and splendid courage. He holds views somewhat radical, but on the main points at issue in the campaign he can scarcely be too radical. Massachusetts politics needs some purification and Moran will wage a campaign that no doubt will promote that result. As governor he would be able to render the people of his state most valuable service.

The late Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, had been believed to be a man of vast wealth and his repute as a multimillionaire operated greatly to his prejudice in politics and brought many of his public acts under unjust suspicion. Great surprise has been felt in Washington by all except intimate personal friends of the late senator that the inventory of his personal estate, filed two or three days ago in the orphans' court in Ellicott City, Md., reached only $612,406. The senator's fortune had been variously estimated at from $3,000,000 to $20,000,000. His political enemies charged him with having amassed a fortune through political deals. Others pictured him as affiliated financially and politically with the great trusts and as reaping a bountiful reward for protecting their interests in congress. The list of stocks and bonds shows that Mr. Gorman invested in stocks of companies doing business in Maryland, the District of Columbia and West Virginia. His largest holding was $71,522 in the bonds of the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railroad. He held 165 shares of Mergenthaler Linotype stock, $60,000 in shares of the Washington Gas and Light company, and $10,000 each in shares of the Gorman Coal company and the Cumberland Coal company, in which his brother, William Gorman, is interested. Senator Gorman's West Virginia investments were largely made in conjunction with former Senator Henry G. Davis, of that state, and Senator Elkins, to both of whom he was related and both of whom are much wealthier than Mr. Gorman was. Mr. Gorman had cash deposited in the Morton Trust company, of New York, to the amount of $43,502.41, and $7,575 in the National Metropolitan bank, of Washington. The inventory shows only two shares of old Baltimore and Ohio Railroad stock, on which the assessment had not been paid. No Pennsylvania stock was held by the senator. The inventory of his household goods includes $5,000 worth of silver plate. His real property holdings were comparatively small.

CHARIVARI HAS FATAL ENDING.

Doctor Who Seeks to Quiet Crowd Shot at Crivitz, Wis.

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 5.—Dr. Henry F. Conover, of Crivitz was shot and killed while trying to quiet a charivari at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett. The couple had just been married, and a crowd of men and boys gathered to celebrate the event in provincial style. Dr. Conover heard the noise and went over to try and suppress the crowd. As he entered the door a gun was discharged and he fell to the ground. The gun was held by Richard Hamilton, a saloonkeeper, who claimed it was discharged by accident. Conover died in his arms. Hamilton was arrested and will be held until after the inquest.

MEXICAN REBELS EJECTED.

All Are Arrested When They Cross Border Into Own Country.

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 5.—Bruno Trevino, Carlos Humbert, Leanerdo Villareal, Juan Garia, Rubio Antonio and Joaquin Fuentes, alleged Mexican revolutionists, were taken to Nogales, Wednesday night and forced across the border by the immigration authorities. A force of Mexican rurales in waiting arrested them the moment they crossed the line. The men were handcuffed together and taken to the Mexican prison. The prisoners were deported on the findings of authorities at Washington that they were alien immigrants.

WILL DEPORT IGORROTE CHILD.

Problem of "Friday" Solved by Immigration Authorities.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 5.—"Friday," the 5-year-old igorrote lad who has become an international problem, was sent last night to join a band of Filipinos who are being returned from Chicago by the government immigration authorities. The boy was taken from a cheap sideshow at Ontario Beach, and since his rescue has adapted himself to American ways and was progressing rapidly in studies at the Humane Shelter. He wished to stay in this country, but the authorities decided otherwise. So far as known, he has no parents.

L. R. Griffin, erecting machinist for the Western Gas works, has gone to Milwaukee to install gas machinery. The work will keep him there about three weeks.

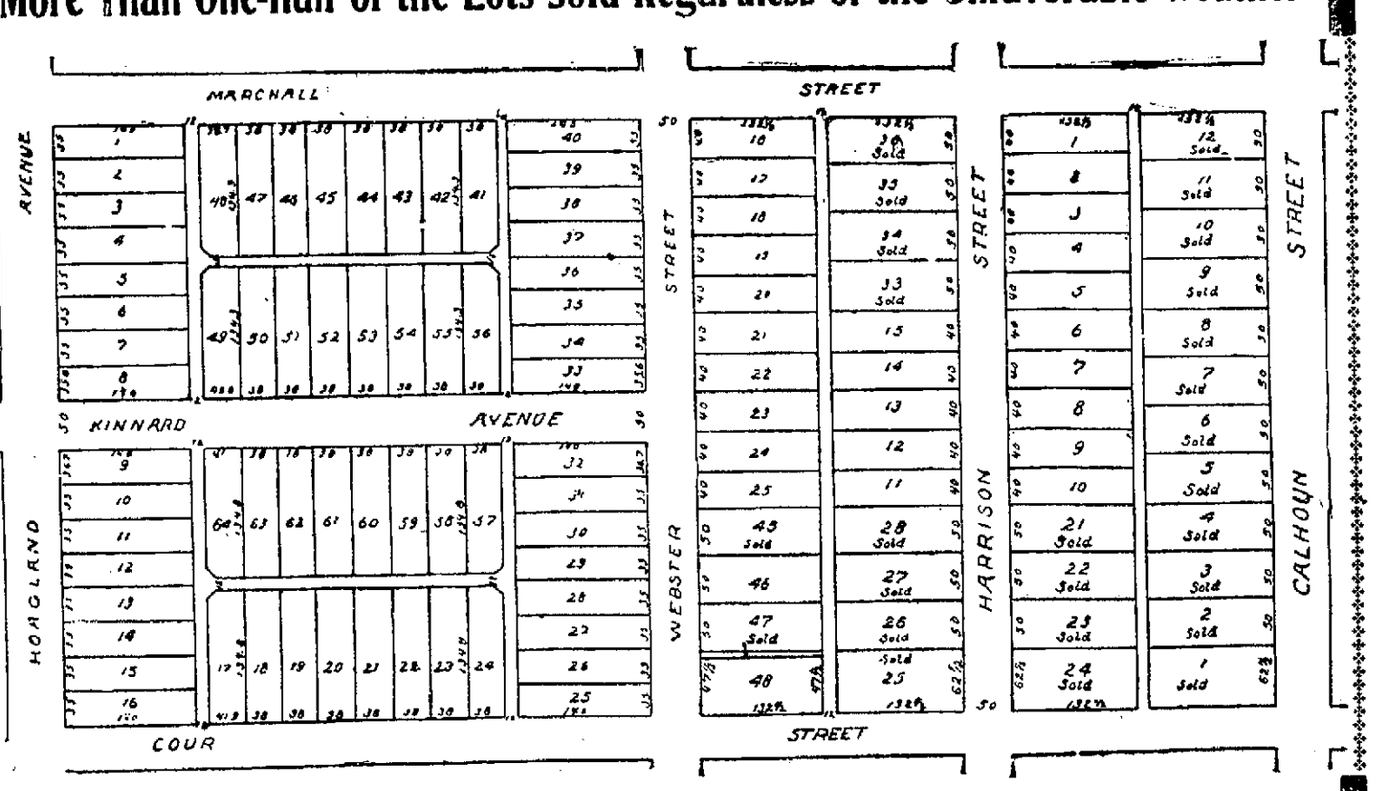
Louis Fox's Sale

Opened With a Rush

More Than One-Half of the Lots Sold Regardless of the Unfavorable Weather



The above is the Louis Fox plat. Do you own one of these lots? If not will you go out and see the locatin? More than one-half of the lots sold yesterday although it commenced to rain at 9 o'clock and did not quit until noon.

Think of it! These lots must have been worth the money or the above record could not have been made. When you see the addition you will find that nearly every lot is alike, viz: One $250 lot is just as good as any other $250 lot in the addition. One $300 lot is worth just as much as any other $300 lot in the Addition, and the same is true of the $400 lots, the $425 lots and the $450 lots, which by the way is the highest priced lot we have for sale. Every one of the above lots will have the benefit of the South Wayne sewer, everyone of them have along the front the new broad cement walk, and you will only have to go three blocks south of Pontiac street, and keep between Calhoun St. and Hoagland Avenue to be convinced that every word of the above is absolutely true.

If you want one of these lots, visit the Addition at once as the sale is not going to be a long affair. It will simply last until the lots are sold, and it is the general impression of those familiar with the Addition that it will only be a few days until this opportunity is a thing of the past.

TERMS: The lots are being sold for $10 cash and $5 per month, and a discount of 5 per cent is being allowed for sums of $100 or more if paid within 30 days. Your future payments will be made at the Fox, Hite & Company's Furniture Store, with interest at 6 per cent on deferred payments.

Any sum may be paid at any time.

WAS ONCE PASTOR AT THE CATHEDRAL

REV. FATHER H. A. BOECKELMANN DIES AT ELKHART.

Battled Off Death Until Parish Was Free from Debt; Then Welcomed the End.

Rev. Father Henry A. Boeckelmann, once assistant pastor of the Cathedral in Fort Wayne, but for the past fifteen years in charge of St. Vincent's Catholic church at Elkhart, died at his home in that city Thursday night at 8 o'clock, and the sad intelligence was transmitted to Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding and the Fort Wayne clergy at once. He was one of the best known priests in the Fort Wayne diocese, and had many friends in this city.

The closing years of Rev. Father Boekelmann's life were marked by unusual heroism and devotion. He had long been a sufferer from diabetes, but taking charge of the Elkhart church at a time when it was heavily encumbered by indebtedness, he fought off death determinedly until the parish was free from debt. This one object sustained him, and when it was attained the faithful pastor lay down his work in resignation and peacefully welcomed the end. For more than a year he had been unable to see sufficiently to read or write. He had ben declining for several months, and a severe fall which he recently sustained from the veranda at his residence is believed to have hastened the end.

Sketch of His Career.

Henry Aloysius Boeckelmann was born in Olster Cappeln, Hanover, Germany, March 31, 1851, and came with his parents to America in 1853, the family locating in Logansport. He received his early education in the parochial schools at Logansport, and supplemented this by a course at the Christian Brothers' university at St. Louis and at the St. Viatuer's university at Bourbonnais Grove, Ill. He was ordained to the priesthood at Bourbonnais Grove, August 3, 1877, by Re. Rev. Bishop Foley for the diocese of Fort Wayne. After teaching the sciences at St. Viatuer's for a year he was appointed pastor of St. John's church at Goshen July 27, 1878. Two years later, on November 26, 1880, he was brought to Fort Wayne assistant pastor of the Cathodral, first under the pastorate of Rev. Father Benoit and later under Rev. Father Brammer. On February 15, 1885, he was appointed to the pastorate at Delphi.

In 1891 Rev. Father Boeckelmann was sent to the pastorate at Elkhart, where financial conditions of the parish were most deplorable. The church encumbrances aggregated far more than its assets, but the new pastor set bravely at work and for several years his chief attention was directed toward resisting lawsuits brought against the church on account of debts. He was victorious in his campaign, winning every one of the thirty-three suits, and in July last was rewarded by seeing the church at Elkhart entirely free from debt, a consummation upon which Father Boeckelmann had devoutly set his heart.

He was a member of the diocesan school board, one of the examiners of the junior clergy of the diocese, and served two terms as president of the Diocesan Priests' Benevolent association. It is expected that the funeral services will be held at Elkhart Tuesday. On account of confirmation services Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding will be unable to attend, and the service will be in charge of Rev. John Bleckmann, pastor of St. Mary's church at Michigan City.

NO MUZZLE FOR NEWSPAPERS.

Court Holds They Cannot Be Restrained Before Publication.

Denver, Oct. 5.—A newspaper cannot be restrained by courts of equity from publishing matter alleged to be libelous, according to a decision handed down by Judge John I. Mullins, of the Denver district court, yesterday, when he dissolved the temporary restraining order issued by him two weeks ago against the Daily Mining Record, of this city, at the instance of G. G. Rice, a Goldfield, Nev., mining promoter. If libelous matter is published the only recourse is a damage suit.

LIVES IN A CAVED-IN WELL.

Man Rescued After Six Hours' Work; Saved by Natural Arch.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 5.—George Young, at the bottom of a thirty-one foot well, listened for six hours to men above him lifting the rocks and earth of a cave-in which had caught him while he was cleaning the well. His escape from death was remarkable. The walls of the well were of stone and two large stones fell together in a way to form a perfect arch over his head, and on this arch rested the stones and earth above.

CAN'T STOP TALKING.

Farmer Talks Grape-Nuts to All His Friends.

The average farmer is nobody's fool. It takes a pretty level head to run a farm, and the more carefully he thinks the more successful he is. A Missouri farmer writes:

"I want to say something about Grape-Nuts as a food, but as I am just a common old farmer, I can't put it as strong as I would like to.

"But I would love for all the world to know (that don't already know) about the merit of Grape-Nuts food. It has done me and my family more good in the way of bringing about good health, adjusting our systems, purifying our blood and keeping our stomachs in good order than all the medicines we have ever taken.

"My little boy was pale and slim, did not have much appetite until we began the use of Grape-Nuts about a year ago. Now he is robust and hearty, eats Grape-Nuts every day and enjoys perfect health.

"I have prevailed upon my neighbors to try Grape-Nuts and it is astonishing, the results. I would not be without it if I had to pay $1.00 a package.

"A year ago I read about it and had my grocer order some. I bought most of it and soon saw the benefits from it and then began to talk Grape-Nuts to everyone. Now I don't know how many packages the grocer sells each week, but he keeps nearly everybody around here supplied.

"Now you can publish this if you want to or do as you please, but you can't keep me from talking about Grape-Nuts, for there is no equal to it anywhere." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

GLASS O FBEER COST $500.05.

And Then William Boldt, Farmer, Did Not Get the Beer.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 5.—A 5-cent glass of beer cost William Boldt, a farmer, near Liverpool, $500.05, in the shape of a fine horse and new buggy, and still he did not get the beer.

Boldt started to meet a friend at the railway station, and finding the train late he drove to a saloon, left his horse standing in the street, and ordered a glass of beer. Before he had drunk it the horse dashed away, with Mr. Boldt is pursuit. The horse ran to the farmer's home, and in attempting to make a short turn in the barnyard, dashed into a mowing machine and was so badly injured that the animal had to be shot. The buggy was broken to pieces.

GIRL FLEES IN MAN'S CLOTHES.

Leaves Home With Brother and Beats Way on Freight Trains.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 5.—Dressed as a man, a 17-year-old girl, who gave her name as Asha Mead and said her home was in Terre Haute, Ind., was arrested at the Iron Mountain depot yesterday, accompanied by William L. Mead, 19 years old, who, she says, is her brother. They left home with $4.15.

In a pocket of the girl's trousers were found the brown tresses which she had shorn before the two left Terre Haute. They were on their way to Reed Springs, Mo., where they say Mrs. Lottie Howard, an aunt, lives.

From Charleston, Ill., to East St. Louis, the girl told the police, they beat their way on freight trains. From Terre Haute to Charleston they rode first-class. They had spent most of the money with which they left home.

GRAND JURY HEARS "TEDDY" JR.

Tells of Assault on Boston Policeman, Which He Witnessed.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 5.—Theodore Roosevelt, jr., and his friend, Meredith Blagden, coxswain of the varsity crew, were before the Suffolk grand jury yesterday in the inquiry into the assault on Policeman Lawrence Fraher on Boston common last Thursday night. Shaun Kelley, Roosevelt's room-mate, is already under $200 bail on a charge of assaulting Fraher, and will have a hearing next Tuesday.

The grand jury inquiry is the outcome of injuries to Fraher, which sent him to the City hospital, following a fracas on the common in which a number of Harvard students participated.

Roosevelt and Blagden arrived at the court house at 9 o'clock and had to wait nearly two hours before the district attorney could take them before the jury.

The district attorney personally conducted their examination, which lasted about a quarter of an hour. At its conclusion Roosevelt and Blagden at once started to leave the building, being interrupted on the way by a court officer, who presented them with their requisitions for witness fees.

This was a formality which was evidently unexpected on their part, and they were both much amused at the idea of being paid $1.35 for their trouble. It was explained to them how and where they might get their money, and they tucked the slips in their pockets with a grin and departed.

Neither would say anything of what transpired in the grand jury room, but the fact that District Attorney Moran told them that they need not call again indicates that there is no intention to proceed against Roosevelt and Blagden and that their examination was only to make a case against Kelley.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5.—The 400 young women living at the Young Women's Christian association building will hold a mass meeting today to consider means of aiding the investigation into the mystery of the dead baby found in a resident's trunk. The The young women feel deeply the notoriety which the discovery has given the association, and at the meeting will pledge themselves to report hereafter all occurrences which might bring discredit upon the association.

They are to be put upon their honor to give every aid in the investigation now being conducted by the police. The girls will be addressed by members of the board of managers, and possibly by one of the city detectives.

The investigation was pressed in every direction by the authorities yesterday. The trunk of every girl living in the building was examined. At present the police believe the placing of the body in Miss Elizabeth Smart's trunk was the act of an enemy.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup

Pleasant to take and does not gripe or nauseate

Cures Chronic Constipation, Stomach and Liver Trouble

Stimulation Without Irritation.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup is a new laxative syrup combined with the delicious flavor of fruits, and is very pleasant to take. It will not gripe or sicken. It is much more pleasant and effective than Pills, Tablets and Saline Waters, as it does not derange the Stomach, or irritate the Kidneys, Liver or Bowels.

Constipation.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup will positively cure chronic constipation as it restores the natural action of the intestinal tract. Ordinary cathartics may give temporary relief but the stomach is upset and the bowels are irritated without any permanent benefit having been derived. The condition of the patient remains unchanged. The Stomach, Liver and Bowels have not been stimulated and in a few days a stronger purgative may have to be taken. This is why Pills and Aperient Waters never give permanent relief. Their violent action results in an unnatural movement of the bowels and it is necessary to keep taking them indefinitely.

Why ORINO is different.

ORINO Laxative Fruit syrup is the only preparation that really acts upon all of the digestive organs. Other preparations act upon the lower bowel only and do not touch the Liver. It can very readily be seen that a preparation that does not act upon all of the digestive organs can not cure Chronic Constipation, Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, etc.

For Biliousness and Sick Headache.

Take ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup. It sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and acts as a gentle stimulant on the liver and bowels without irritating these organs.

Clears the Complexion.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. It is the best laxative for women and children as it is mild and pleasant, and does not gripe or sicken. Refuse substitutes.

OUR GUARANTEE Take ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup and if you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

"Iritis" Induced by Wearing Veils To Motor In

Chiffon Particularly Detrimental to Eyesight, Says Prominent Optician.

GLASSES ARE BEST

Injurious if Eyes Are Unprotected—Dust and Cinders Create Inflammation.

If women would wear goggles instead of chiffon veils when motoring there would be fewer cases of strained optic nerves and of iritis; at least, this is the opinion of a well known oculist, who declares that since automobiling has become such a fad, the number of "iritis" patients has increased ninety per cent, and the persons suffering with over-strained nerves of sight were never so numerous before.

"Never ride on a front seat without goggles," he says, "and my advice is never to get into a touring car without a pair of glasses that will protect the eyeballs from both wind and dirt. Wearing veils—a style that is gradually wearing out—is better than having no protection for the eyes, but if worn continually—particularly the heavy chiffon—the nerves of sight are strained by constantly looking, trying to discern objects through them. The necessity of peering through a sieve-like material in an effort to get a clear view of any distant object brings on an unconscious strain that is injurious, and if women would only realize the harm they are doing their optic nerves in wearing 'auto' veils fewer of them would be used.

"In discarding veils there are two alternatives, the goggles that many of the fair sex abhor, because they are unsightly and give a grotesque appearance to the face, and going with the eyes unprotected.

Injurious Not to Protect Eyes.

"Without a shield over the eyes I believe that motoring is not only harmful but really injurious, for the dust that collects on the eyeballs when touring at a high rate of speed on country as well as city roads brings on inflammation, granulated lids, pinkeye, acute catarrhal conjunctivitis, iritis and several other similar troubles. Of these inflammation is the least troublesome, for it is simply an enlargement of the blood vessels in the eye and may be easily cured by frequent washings with a five per cent solution of boric acid, provided no more auto trips are taken until the congested condition is cured.

"While granulation usually comes from a diseased condition of the eyelids, there is a form of it brought on by getting dust into the eyeballs and the constant rubbing to remove the irritating specks. In an effort to get a gritty piece of dirt from the eye the lids are pulled up and down and rubbed in every conceivable way until they begin to get sore and red. Then, if not treated properly, granulation begins. Sometimes it can be cured in a few days, but more often once started it lasts for several weeks.

"Getting dirt in the eye or foreign bodies on the cornea, as we call it professionally, is also injurious, for if these hard specks are not removed they cause an inflammation that not infrequently results in an ulcer of the cornea that if not carefully treated by an experienced oculist may entirely destroy the eye.

Pinkeye a Distressing Motor Trouble.

"Pinkeye is exaggerated inflammation caused by wind and the getting of sand and dirt into the eyes. It is sometimes difficult to control, because as a rule it is the result of long continued congestion, which culminates in an almost chronic enlarged condition of the blood vessels in the eyeballs.

"Iritis" is the most dangerous of all of these troubles caused by getting dirt in the eyes, for it frequently means confinement in a dark room for several months, during which time the patient must be under the constant care of an oculist. Then, too, if not taken in time and properly treated the sense of sight may be lost.

"A woman prone to rheumatism should never motor without a pair of glasses to shield her eyes from wind and dust, for if the eyeballs are exposed to continued cold they will soon begin to pain, the blood vessels will become congested and suffering will follow.

"Any person suffering with an affection of the eyes should be careful about automobile trips, especially those afflicted with nearsightedness, for the jarring of the machine is bad and may aggravate the disease."

Fashions That Are Modish in School Girls' Garments

GARMENTS FROM R. H. MACY & Co. PHOTOS BY JOEL FEDER.

(By Elizabeth Lee.)

Chinchilla cloth, as a material for children's coats, has taken on new life, and quite a number of the latest models are developed from this serviceable fabric. In order, too, that all tastes and forms may be suited, there are garments of all lengths to choose from, beginning with the smart, natty looking reefer and box coats, through the half and three-quarter tourist looking wraps, down to those full length, in the most mannish suits, so much so, in fact, that it is difficult to believe at a glance, that the long, loose overcoat, with its regulation man's collar and pockets is really intended for misses' wear at all, following so closely, as it does, the lines of a youth's heavy top coat.

Still I am told these models are finding favor among the high school girls, who are looking for a coat that shall be warm, roomy and comfortable. The same thing is shown in gray mixtures, but these seem to lack the style shown in those built from the rich navy blue chinchilla. To save the grays from the too tourist styles an emblem is worked on the sleeve, and this may effect the purpose, at the same time it looks to me a little incongruous, though I should like it on the navy, that is, on the shorter models, the long top coat not being improved by such a decoration.

Rain Coats Plainer in Style.

The new rain coats, a garment indispensable in the school girl's wardrobe, come in the same materials as last year—cravenette and covert cloth—but changed in style. No pleats or other fulness are seen, but simply a long sack, straight and seamless down the back, with under arm and shoulder seams, closing double breasted down the front and sleeves in large coat shape. The only trimming is a two inch strap of the goods, neatly stitched, which runs from each shoulder seam, both back and front, to the edge of the coat, giving the shapeless looking wrap some semblance to the figure wearing it.

Mothers with girls at the age that was formerly known as the "awkward age"—a period that has disappeared as surely as that there are now no elderly women—will welcome a smart school frock known as the intermediate size, neither a girl's nor a misses,' and dubbed the Junior College. This model, I am told, is cut lacking an inch everywhere, and on every edge of the misses first size; also, that quite a number were sold to very small women, who find even misses' sizes too small, girls as a rule taking larger sizes when growing than when matured. This is especially true of shoes and corsets, as every mother knows.

Red Serge in Intermediate Sizes.

A cosey looking dark red serge was made up into one of these suits, the skirt in four gores, each width suggesting a double box pleat, the hem tailor stitched twice. The bodice was similarly pleated from the shoulders and showed a square of white at the neck, which was an agreeable relief. The sleeves were full bishop, stitched to form cuffs, and the belt was a stitched band of the cloth. Though simple it was exceedingly stylish, its beauty depending entirely upon cut, stitching and pressing.

For girls up to twelve years of age a frock showing a good deal of style and excellent lines is in navy blue Panama of a good quality, in one piece style, joined at the waist line, pleated from the shoulders and closing down the left side. The neck is cut away to display a small guimpe of bright Scotch plaid silk, while the bishop sleeves are, too, of the contrasting material, small cape sleeves of the Panama overlapping these. There is absolutely no other trimmings, all edges being beautifully tailor stitched. The belt is of the blue.

Another Smart Model.

Then another model for girls of this age is a French model, cut somewhat on the lines of the Panama, but made for wear over a wash guimpe, the upper edge and down the closing being cut into sharp points, bound with a fold of velvet matching the material of the frock, while a small velvet button, set into each point conceals a hook corresponding with an eye on the guimpe securing the two—frock and guimpe. The guimpe shows bishop sleeves and so does the frock originally, but are afterward cut into points on the outer edge of arm from shoulder to wrist, then bound with the velvet and connected with the buttons, the white sleeves showing between the slashings. This would be bright and pretty if made of dark green plaid, the velvet green, and the buttons flat, bright brass ones, a little less than a ten cent piece in size, the loose velvet belt being drawn through a brass buckle to match.

ETIQUETTE OF INTRODUCTIONS.

On an at-home day, when many are present, a hostess is not required to make introductions between her guests unless she wishes to do so; but when the callers number but one or two only it is incumbent upon her to introduce them to each other.

At a large luncheon party the numbers regulate whether or no general introductions are to be made. It is not possible to introduce all in a given time, and therefore only two or three of the principal people present are introduced, says Woman's Life.

At a small luncheon party, on the contrary, to introduce all the guests to each other is the received rule, and this is done immediately on arrival if possible—formally or informally, directly or indirectly, as the hostess may prefer; but still an introduction of some kind is made.

Cosmetic Beauty Waters To Freshen and Tone Skin

Can Be Easily Made at Home and Add Materially to Comfort and Appearance of Women Using Them—Toilet Vinegar for Enlarged Pores.

(By Margaret Mixter.)

One of the least understood of all toilet requisites is the use of cosmetic and toilet waters and vinegars, which add so materially to the comfort, attractiveness and well being of women generally. Not that the use of strong perfumes is advised, quite the contrary; but there are innumerable waters of cosmetic value which in use exhale a certain fragrance from the body which is most delightful and which is one of the charms of true femininity.

There is no great difficulty in preparing these cosmetic liquids at home—in fact, generally speaking the art is a simple one, the exception being in the matter of toilet waters from fresh flowers, which require more care.

One of the most valuable of bath waters, the origin of which is attributed to Sarah Bernhardt and which is said to have a wonderful effect upon the skin, rendering it white and firm, acting as a sedative to the nerves, is altogether a fine skin tonic. There may be exceptions to its use in the case of women whose skin is inclined to cutaneous eruptions; otherwise the results from its use are most gratifying.

Lotion for That "Tired" Feeling.

Take one-quarter pint of alcohol—the recipe can be doubled or tripled if desired—one ounce each of spirits of camphor and ammonia, two and a half ounces of sea salt and one pint of boiling water; mix thoroughly and always shake before using. If a woman comes in tired from a day's shopping, a long walk or any other wearying exertion, apply the tonic to the face and arms and it will magically remove all of that "tired" feeling and put one in fine condition for the evening.

Another delightful and refreshing bath water, which is said to come from Portugal, is made from two and one-half ounces each of eau de rose and eau fleur d'orange, one and a quarter ounces of eau de myrte, one-half drachm of essence of ambergris and one-quarter drachm of essence of musk. After thoroughly commingling the ingredients keep closely corked in a bottle for a week in the dark—it were better if it remained even two weeks— then pour off the clear liquid. A little poured into the basin of water in which the face is washed will revive and freshen the complexion wonderfully.

Toilet Vinegar for Coarse Skin.

Some women who have good complexions suffer from relaxed tissues and course skin and for this condition nothing is better than a good toilet vinegar to be added to the bath water. One of the best of these is made from six grammes of oil of bergamot, five grammes of oil of citron, six grammes of tincture of benzoin, fifteen grammes of extract of lavender and three-quarters of a pint of white wine vinegar. Mix together and allow to remain for ten days then filter. In using, dilute the water with four or five parts of rose or distilled water, or freshly boiled water is equally good. In applying to the face add the tonic to warm or hot water, wash the face thoroughly, dashing it up about the neck, then cleanse with cold.

At this season of the year, when tan and freckles and the result of a summer at the seashore or mountains, a good skin whitener and freckle remover is in demand. A formula which has come down to us from the Parisian perfumers of long ago and which has stood the effect of time is claimed to have marvelous beautifying properties, not only whitening the skin, but removing freckles and bringing a fresh, rosy color to the surface.

An Old French Cosmetique.

It is composed of all sorts of delicious ingredients and can be made from six grams of oil of bergamot, two and a half grams of oil of citron and the same of oil of Portugal; one and a half grams of oil of neroli and a half gram of petitgrain; three quarters gram of oil of rosemary, one drop of attar of roses, one and a half drachms of balsam of tolu and one pint of rectified spirits of wine. After the ingredients have infused for two weeks, filter. Fifteen to twenty drops to a quarter of a glass of warm water makes a delightful lotion to be applied to the body with an atomizer while the body is wet from the bath.

If one desires to obtain a toilet vinegar of some favorite odor made from fresh flowers, herbs or other aromatic substance, add three or four ounces of fresh flowers to one pint of strong white wine vinegar. Allow this to stand for a week, shaking up vigorously each day. Strain by expressing all the odor from the flowers and if the water be not strong enough more flowers or herbs may be added and the process repeated. Other toilet waters may be made by adding fifteen to twenty drops of one of the essential oils to one pint of white wine vinegar.

Shield Babies' Eyes From the Light

Don't let young infants look at bright-colored objects. Never allow them to lie and stare into the sunshine, at the gas, electric light or into the flame of a lamp, for it may strain the nerve of sight and make the eyes weak for the remainder of their lives, declares a physicina of a babies' hospital.

"Unfortunately most young children are abnormally attracted by any bright object such as a red feather on a hat, a vivid green or yellow chair, or by artificial or sunlight," he says, "and they will exert all their strength to turn their bodies so that the bright thing is within the range of vision. Knowing this mothers should make every effort to protect the eyes of babies and make sure that the rooms where they sleep or stay when awake have no objects that will attract and hold the interest of the little one and perhaps injure the optic nerves.

"Always have the sunlight tempered. Put a shade over any kind of artificial light so that it will not shine directly into a young child's eyes. Take all gay pictures and hangings from the apartments were babies are to stay, and in their places put up soft green things that are restful and will have no exciting effect on the delicate nerves of sight.

"When taking an infant out of doors always protect its eyes from the glare of the sun by a parasol or a broad brim on a hat, but do not put a veil over its face with the mistaken idea that this will keep out the dust and incidentally the brightness of the sun or the dazzling whiteness of the snow. Next to looking at bright objects or into lights nothing is more harmful to the eyes of a young child than to put a veil across them, for the little one is obliged to strain the nerves of sight to see clearly through the material, even if the latter is sheer.

"To strengthen the eyes and incidentally to cleanse them, use a five per cent solution of boric acid every morning and evening. It is a good plan to drop some of this solution into a babe's eyes before taking it out of doors on a cold or windy day and again when it is brought indoors, for the acid has a soothing effect, besides cleansing, and is an excellent guard against inflammation."

A customer came to our shop a few days ago and purchased a hat for $11.50. She compared this hat with one bought by a friend for $20 at another shop, and advised us that her friend decided the hat purchased of us was better than the $20 one.

The incident illustrates not only the high-class millinery in our stock but also the great price difference. Our business is so large and our expenses so small that no one can sell so low and secure a livelihood out of the business.

Our present offering is particularly interesting because it includes the correct headwear that will be in vogue the coming season. The "Gage" hats, the "Fisk" hats, "Keith" styles and the "Phipps Hat Works" produce correct millinery. All of these, together with imported models and our own adaption of beautiful hats, including dress, tailored and children's designs on display.

THE NEW COLLEGE HATS—Most dashing styles ever created—latest models for immediate wear—from $2.25 down to 75c.

Have you seen the Skiddoo hats, for young ladies?—all colors, $1.50 and as low as 50c.

Women's Trimmed Dress Hats $5.00 and $7.50

We lay particular stress on these hats at $5 and $7.50 because they have been the chief effort of our work room during the past few days. We think we have produced some remarkably handsome hats to sell at this figure.

TAILOR SUIT HATS AND TURBANS—No two alike. Of notable interest to you will be the new and very jaunty Silk Braid Sailors and Dress shapes, and only $2.25.

FLOWERS, FEATHERS, TRIMMINGS, ETC.—Everything in the fancy feather line can be had here—Coque Plumes, Breasts, Birds, Wings and Paradise effects.

Our buyer is in the market this week and additional novelties and choice goods have been received.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR THE SERIES

NATIONAL COMMISSION PLANS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

Umpires Selected and Other Details Arranged—The White Sox Win.

At a meeting of the National Base Ball commission in Cincinnati yesterday the plans for the world's championship series between the Chicago Nationals and Chicago Americans were completed and James Johnstone and Frank "Silk" O'Loughlin were selected as umpires.

A rule was promulgated whereby the jurisdiction of the umpires in the championship contests is made supreme and the umpires are given authority to eject from the game all players indulging in vile and indecent language and unfair tactics. In case of fines being apportioned among the players by the umpires for breaking the rules the money shall be deducted from the players' portion.

All of the rules adopted by the commission last season will hold good and fifty tickets will be given to the officials of the two leagues. The games will be called at 3 o'clock and rain checks will be issued regardless of weather conditions and if a game for which they are issued is postponed they will be good for the next. CUSICK GIVES AN INTERVIEW.

Newspapers Quote Goal Tend and What He Probably Said.

A writer on a Muncie paper quotes Dave Cusick as saying:

"My wife was born with a silver spoon in her mouth; mine was of tin. We have agreed to separate and a divorce will be given her, as far as I am concerned. I have agreed not to contest her suit. We are still good friends. We might have been happy if others had not meddled, but I am not sure. We were reared in different atmospheres and our tastes were not always congenial."

This is followed by references to the "flaxen-haired goal tend" who bed tears in his eyes as he said it with an account of his marriage two years ago to Miss Sue Hemingray, of Muncie.

It's a safe bet the Cusick's interview was revised in the office before it was sent out. People who know the aforesaid "flaxen haired" are ready to bet that he does not know what atmosphere is and what Davy probably said is: "My frau cut in at the upper crust while I hit the slums when I was born. We've decided to split out and if she wants a divorce Davy'll not knock her game. She's me lady frien' still and we might a pushed dis married stunt to de limit if de whole family hadn't butted in from de start.

"Me for the east. I weighed in light and have been out of me class all de time. I got in bad from the start and I can't learn de game and here's where I take me twenty-three from high society."

RARE BOOKS USED IN PLAY.

Curious Volumes Bought at Auction in "Brown of Harvard."

Among the properties used in "Brown of Harvard," the successful college play which comes to the Princess theater on Monday, October 8th, are several hundreds of books. Henry Miller, who staged the comedy purchased these in a lot at an auction sale and was afterwards surprised to find among them several volumes of considerable value. One of these was a copy of Burke's Peerage printed in 1741 and another was the Rev. Timothy Harley's eccentric but interesting treatise on "Moon Lore." Mr. Miller found in the latter work a curious bit of information concerning the Chinese idea of lunar habitation. According to this account the orientals believe that theatrical performances were invented in the moon and that the method of conducting them on earth is an imitation effected through the narrative of a celestial whi visited the former planet.

SPINSTER'S HIDDEN FORTUNE.

Nearly $50,000 Found in the House After Her Death.

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 5.—For many years Miss Frances Caroline Robinson lived on the outskirts of Hudson, and although it was known that she had an income sufficient to provide her with a living, no one supposed that the creepy-looking old house which set back from the road in a clump of trees was a real treasure trove. Since her death an amount close to $50,000 has been unearthed by searchers employed by the executor, Smith Thompson, who is the president of the Farmers' bank here.

She was a spinster about seventy years old, and since the death of her sister had lived alone in the old time family mansion, which is storm-beaten and falling into decay.

The estate was thought to be small before the hidden wealth was revealed. When a search of the house was made packages of bills, covered with buttons and spools of thread, were found at the bottom of jars. In many instances they were tied up in bundles of rags and wrapped so closely that only the most careful search revealed them.

The gold and silver coins found were of rare variety. Much of the gold was of the date of the reign of King George III, while in silver there was Spanish money dating back to 1767. These, like the bills, were hidden in all parts of the house, and in jars, dishes and work-baskets and pitchers.

CHURCH ISSUES COUPONS.

It Will Keep Tab on Attendance at Communion Services.

Sandusky, O., Oct. 5.—Detachable coupons have been authorized by the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, including some of the first people of Sandusky, as a means of keeping tab on the attendance at services which for some time has been on the wane.

This was decided on at a meeting of the officers of the various church organizations and the pastor, Rev. A. P. Higley. Every member of the church will receive a card within the next few days, attached to which will be four coupons, one for each of four coming communion services. Next Sunday those attending the service will have the coupon for one day detached.

By these means it will be known at the end of each month who has been derelict in his spiritual duties.

LEAVES SOCIETY FOR INDIANS.

Cleveland Young Woman Will Be Missionary In South Dakota.

Cleveland, Oct. 5.—It is a long step from the station of an east end society girl and church worker to that of a missionary among the Indians, but Miss Maud Kimball, of 7211 Carnegie avenue, S. E., considered well before she decided. She has left for the Episcopal St. Elizzabeth school for Indians in the Standing Rock reservation, South Dakota.

Miss Kimball is a member of Emanuel Episcopal church, Euclid avenue, and has been secretary to the rector, Rev. Wilson R. Stearley. Her work in the church has given her a taste for religious effort, and she is sure that she will be repaid for her sacrifice.

"If I am suited for the work I will stay," said Miss Kimball. "I shall do my best."

CITY BREVITIES.

Monroe W. Fitch & Sons have sold O. F. Guildin's lot in Lakeside to J. A. Houser for a consideration of $1,300. Mr. Houser expects to build on his property.

Next Sunday the members of the Young Men's Sodality of the Cathedral will receive holy communion in a body at the Cathedral. The regular monthly business meeting and social of the sodality will be held next Tuesday evening in Library hall.

Next Sunday the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church will inaugurate a contest among the scholars to increase the membership of the school. The school will meet in the afternoon at 2:45.

The members of L. O. T. M. hive, No. 6, are making preparations for a dance and pedro party which they will hold in the Hibernian hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18.

Mrs. Myrtle Steinel, of St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Pierce, of Washington boulevard east.

BUNK WITH RATTLESNAKES.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 5.—Reports of an unprecedented scourge of rattlesnakes are arriving daily from ranchers along the Columbia and Snake rivers. With the advent of cool nights the rattlers seek cover and warmth, and succeed in locating the bunks and beds, with the result that scarcely a day passes that some man or woman does not awake to find a reptile for a bedfellow.

At Riparia, Wash., where a railroad camp has been located, Mrs. James Harris, wife of the foreman of the construction gang, was so badly frightened by such a discovery that she became a mental wreck and is not expected to recover for weeks, if at all. So numerous did the reptiles become in that vicinity that the camp is being moved to a place ten miles down the river.

At Waterville, Wash., Miss Kate Wolford, who is holding down a homestead, packed her valise and visited the ranch of her brother, fifteen miles distant. Upon arrival there she opened the valise to exhibit some fancy work, when a rattlesnake tumbled onto the floor. The brother dispatched it with a poker.

A remarkable feature of these accounts is that instances are rare in which one has been bitten by a rattler. The cooler weather, which accounts for their presence about the haunts of civilization, also has the effect of making them sluggish in their movements, and, consequently, less dangerous.

EX-PRIEST FLEES WITH GIRL.

Member of Celebrated Order Elopes With Young Woman.

Rome, Oct. 5.—A case resembling the famous Delarue mystery, which recently caused such a sensation in France, has aroused considerable interest here. A few days ago it was announced that Father Virginio Carones, of the Camilleni order, rector of the aristocratic Church of the Santa Maria Maddalena, belonging to the Ministri Del Infermi, a noble brotherhood of priests, founded by St. Camillo Lellis in 1584, and devoted to the spiritual care of the sick in the various hospitals of Rome, had resigned from the priesthood and disappeared.

It has now been discovered that the former priest fled from Italy with a beautiful girl belonging to a distinguished family and it is reported that they are on their way to the United States.

Carones, who is young, tall and handsome, served the usual term in the army, where he was attached to an artillery regiment, and rose to the rank of lieutenant. After leaving the army he became rector of the church of the Santa Maria Maddalena, but was recalled to the colors for temporary service and, it is stated, managed to combine his two duties. Returning at an early hour from the artillery barracks he put his monk's robes over his uniform and in this manner celebrated mass. He was compelled to make the alteration in his costume so hastily that he was unable to take off his military boots, and when kneeling before the altar the congregation caught glimpses of his spurs beneath his gown.

GERMAN SYNOD ELECTS.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 5.—The synod of the German Reformed church of the Northwest, including a half dozen states, and, with 120 delegates, elected the following officers: President, Rev. John F. Winter, Terre Haute; vice president, Rev. H. C. Nott, Milwaukee; corresponding secretary, Rev. J. Vornhorst, Jeffersonville; stated clerk, Dr. Jenett, Sheboygan, Wis., and treasurer, Elder F. Hoff, Terre Haute. Delegates from the Central and Ohio synods were admitted.

ALL IN COURT SMOKED.

Kentucky Judicial Scene Looked Queer to Indiana Visitor.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Oct. 5.—Capt. M. E. Clegg, of this city, has returned from Brandenburg, Meade county, Kentucky, where he was called as a witness in a suit brought by George Hazzard against the Louisville and Evansville Packet company for personal injuries. Captain Clegg was impressed with the Kentucky court, but not favorably. The deputy sheriff kept order, but he smoked a corncob pipe throughout the sitting of court. Negroes sat around smoking cigarettes the whole time court was in session, and jurors in the box smoked corncob pipes and cigars. The deputy sheriff wore no collar, and when he took a drink from a dipper from the bucket of water, he threw what he did not want on the floor. It was in Brandenburg where Judge Marsh, of this city, lost an uncle a few years ago, who was shot through the head by a man who stood on the balcony of the hotel above him, the shooting resulting from a feud. The assassin was never arrested.

There are ten senior Sigma Chis in Purdue, and they will make the trip to Brook Saturday morning. Mr. Ade will meet them at the station with a carry-all, and they will be taken direct to the farm.

Mr. Ade will don overalls and show how he grows successful crops. There will be various amusement features, but the guests will not know exactly what they are until the time comes.

The Sigs who will be entertained by their noted fraternity brother are: George McMahon, Anderson; William B. TO HOLD MEETING IN HUNTINGTON AMERICAN CHRISTIAN CONVENTION NEXT WEEK.

For First Time in Many Years the Quadrennial Meeting to Be Held in the West.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 5.—The First Christian church, of this city, will, October 9 to 16, entertain the quadrennial meeting of the American Christian convention, the first time in twenty years this organization has met in the west. Great preparations are in progress in the local church for the entertainment of the gathering, to which fully 320 delegates have been accredited. Possibly 1,000 visitors from all parts of the United States and Canada will attend.

The homes of Huntington will be thrown open to the visitors, hundreds of families furnishing sleeping accommodations and breakfasts, while the church itself has arranged for noonday and evening meals at a low rate.

The large, new auditorium of the church will be the meeting place of the convention, though other church auditoriums have been offered for special gatherings and department meetings.

Rev. W. D. Samuel, as pastor in charge, is at the head of the entertainment arrangements, though he is no less active than O. W. Whitelock, of this city, president of the Christian Publishing board, and a member of the executive board of the convention. Rev. C. V. Strickland, who has several times been in charge of convention music, a music publisher of note, whose home is in this city, is at the head of the reception committee. On account of failing voice he will not lead in music this year, but will be active in other parts of the work. George Fanning is at the head of the registration committee, and Charles Strickland has been named as postmaster and head of the information bureau.

Questions to Be Considered.

As the governing body of the Christian denomination this convention will have under consideration many matters of general church interest. Not the least among these will be the publishing establishment, started during the last quadrennium at Dayton, O. Under the direction of the Christian Publishing board, headed by O. W. Whitelock, a large new building has been erected in Dayton, O., and a modern printing plant has been put in, from which all church publications, including the Herald of Gospel Liberty, the church organ, are issued.

Though there is a movement in some quarters, and it is backed by the declarations of certain conferences, for the election of O. W. Whitelock as president of the convention, instead of Rev. O. W. Powers, of Dayton, O., the executive now in office, it is held by the greater number that Mr. Whitelock, in recognition of his services with the publishing board, will be retained as president of that organization. For sixteen years he has been president of the Eel River Christian conference. In addition to this he has had years of experience at the bar and on the bench of the Huntington circuit court and is now the editor and publisher of a daily paper in this city.

Contest for Position of Editor.

Growing out of certain matters connected with the editorial management of the Herald of Gospel Liberty, there is likely to be a contest for the position of editor, to succeed Dr. J. J. Summerbell, who has held the office eight years.

The policy of Dr. J. G. Bishop in changing Porto Rico from a foreign to a home missionary field in his office as missionary secretary may be questioned, though his action probably will be approved. There will be other contests, but they are few and of minor importance. There is every indication that the session will be one of harmony and free from the church politics so frequently evident in large gatherings of the kind.

All departments of church work, especially church erection, foreign missions and publishing interests, will show healthy gains for the quadrennium.

Rev. W. D. Samuel, of this city, will give the address of welcome Tuesday evening, October 9; Rev. L. W. Phillips, of Franklin, N. H., will respond and the convention sermon will be delivered by Rev. D. M. Helfenstein, of Des Moines, Ia.

REMEMBERS BLUFFTON BOY.

Annie Oakley, Famous Woman Rifle Shot is Friend of Ralph Rinear.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 5.—Ralph Rinear, a son of Councilman George W. Rinear, is without doubt the proudest and the happiest boy in Bluffton or Wells county today. He is the recipient of a handsome Remington target rifle, gun case, five hundred rounds of cartridges and two hundred targets from Annie Oakley, the most famous woman rifle shot and pistol shot in the world.

Mrs. Rinear has during her life time been a great friend of Miss Oakley, and on account of this friendship, Miss Oakley, who never gets so busy with her many engagements as to forget her old friends, found time to remember Ralph through his mother.. As yet he has not attained the same degree of proficiency with the gun that the donor would no doubt possess, but he is practicing hard and hopes to be able to give a good account of himself at the targets in a short time.

AT SIX A WIZARD OF MUSIC.

Little Boy In Sayre Can Play Almost Anything He Hears.

Sayre, Pa., Oct. 5.—Sayre probably has the youngest natural-born musician in the state. Little Harold Mastellar, age six years, has mastered music to an exceptional extent. Indeed, simply as an attentive listener, he can play any tune that he hears; that is, he can go to a concert and upon returning home can play at piano or organ fine music that he has never seen. Professors of music acquainted with the child say he is a wonder.

Little Harold has received three medals for playing before renowned musicians, and when Sousa's band was here, a short time ago, the "march king" gave the little chap a reward.

The musical instinct began to develop in the child at the age of three years and in the last few months the boy has successfully played the latest popular airs on the organ, piano, accordion, violin, mouth organ and mandolin, and no matter what ordinary instrument he comes in contact with he can play it after thirty minutes' practice.

AUBURN MAN A PIONEER.

Dyer Matthews Among First Government Surveyors in Colorado.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 5.—Dyer Matthews, of South Jackson street, was one of the first government surveyors in Colorado. He left here with a party in June, 1851, and went direct to Denver, requiring nine weeks to make the trip which is now made in less than forty-eight hours. At that time there were no railroads west of the Mississippi and they crossed thousands of acres of government land which is now worth a hundred dollars an acre. After being at Denver a short time they went about eleven miles south, where they began work, first running a line ninety miles in length as a base line. Later they run vertical lines from this, one of which went up Pikes Peak where Mr. Matthews carved his name. He remained in Colorado at this time six months, after which he entered the army.

Hymn Played on Graphophone Brings Freedom to Aged Prisoner.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 5.—While the first trial of Joseph Ager, an aged German, charged with assault, was in progress yesterday morning a graphophone in an adjoining building began playing "Ask the Savior to Help You." Raising his hands in supplication the lawyer for the defense called the jury's attention to the sentiment of the beautiful song, repeating the words as the machine produced the melody. There were many bowed heads in the court room at the close of the dramatic incident. Ager was acquitted.

DREAM EVIDENCE GETS HIM DIVORCE

IN VISION MAN SEES ELOPEMENT OF YOUNG WIFE.

Takes the Hunch and Finds Spouse in Hotel With Companion and the Rest Was Easy.

New York, Oct. 5.—Acting on a dream vision which was so vivid that it seemed reality John J. Curry, former candidate for alderman in the Thirteenth assembly district, obtained evidence which this week resulted in his procuring a divorce from his young wife. The slumber picture which presented itself to Curry was that of his wife fleeing with another man to a hotel in a secluded section. With the aid of detectives Curry traced the couple's movements, brought suit for divorce and was granted a degree in part 3 of the supreme court by Judge O'Gorman.

The dream came to Curry last March while he was alone in his residence at the northeast corner of Ninth avenue and Fortieth street, after his wife had been separated from him for four months. Curry at the time had detectives watching the actions of the young woman and had been in conference with the sleuths on the night in question. Worry over his marital troubles had kept him awake until early hours, when he finally fell into a restless sleep.

Presently there floated before him the vision of his wife hurrying through a railroad station accompanied by a man whose appearance was not unfamiliar to him. The couple turning nervously from right to left, boarded a train and he lost sight of them.

In the background of his dream picture was the dim outlines of a country hotel.

Facts Confirm Dream.

When Curry awoke the picture was so imprinted on his mind that he at once got into communication with his detectives and started in pursuit. From one of the men he learned on that very morning, March 11, Mrs. Curry had boarded a train bound for North Bergen, N. J. She was accompanied by a man who afterward proved to be William Bradley, of Union Hill, N. J.

With three detectives and four friends Curry then left for North Bergen. Inquiry at the hotels at first gave little hope of finding the eloping pair, but after hours of weary search it at last transpired that a man and woman answering the description of the young wife and Bradley had engaged rooms at the Grand View. The proprietor, however, barred the way to the searching party.

Only after the true nature of the affair became known to the hotel people did they grant Curry permission to go to the room. Accompanied by the detectives and his friends he then went to the room and knocked on the door. A man answered the summons whom Curry declares in his affidavit was Bradley, but the door was quickly banged in the faces of the intruders and the key was turned.

After repeated pounding and threats of smashing in the door the man again appeared. This time the searchers forced their way in. Curry says his wife was discovered in the room.

The scene which followed was dramatic. Curry pointed to his wife with scorn and disowned her in the presence of the men. He then rushed frantically to her escort and had not his friends interferred would have thrashed him.

"You can do no further good here," said John Hettinger, one of the witnesses he had taken with him. "This is all the evidence you require. Come, let us leave."

Restraining the infuriated husband, the detectives then led Curry from the room. They soon returned to the city, leaving the eloping couple in the hotel.

Wife Defaults Case.

A day later Curry began suit for divorce and the case came up for a final hearing. No defense was made by the wife. She did not appear in court, but filed a statement saying that Curry was not the father of the child. Helen, which was born in 1903, a year after their marriage in December, 1902.

Curry has signified his intention of bringing suit for $10,000 against Bradley, who is said to be the son of wealthy parents. He says the worry over his marital affairs caused him to drop out of the contest for district leader, in which he was to have opposed John P. Windolph.

Curry says his wife is now living with her mother, at No. 512 West Twenty-seventh street. She was a daughter of James Hickey, formerly a well known figure in local political circles.

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR:

AND WE CAN PROVE IT

Testimonial No. 422.

MISS JEANETTE WALLICE,
943 W. 14TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a gummy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and no time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow unusually long, strong and beautiful. One 25 cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists, three sizes, 25c., 50c. & $1.00 per bottle. KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago.

KUKES KICKS ON COMPANY SHANTY

SAYS HIS WIFE'S HEALTH WAS PERMANENTLY INJURED.

Sugar Beet Raiser Demands $1,000 in Damages—General News of the Courts.

Konrad Kukes has filed suit in the circuit court against the Continental Sugar company demanding $1,000 damages for the reason that the corporation is alleged to have supplied him a house at Woodburn that was unfit to live in and as a result his wife became ill and has since been in bad health.

Kukes says he entered into a contract with the company to raise sugar beets in Allen county and that part of the agreement was that he was to be furnished a suitable house to live in. He says he explained to the agent of the company through whom he made the contract that he expected a visit from the stork and stipulated that the house should be comfortable and was assured that it would be.

He says he found on his arrival a shanty of one room with a single board siding full of holes and cracks and that by reason of the fact that his wife gave birth to a child the day after their arrival he had no opportunity to hunt another dwelling. He says it became cold the day after his arrival and that his wife's health was permanently injured to such an extent that she could not help him in the beet fields. William Fruechtenich is his attorney.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Deranged organs, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system.

It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine surely cures. Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

APPEAL IS MADE TO BIRD HUNTERS

SHOOTERS ARE ASKED TO SPARE WATER FOWL.

Agricultural Department Appeals to the States—Hunters Asked to Read This.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The department of agriculture has appealed to states to enact laws protecting wild ducks and geese. It points out that water fowl, formerly abundant over the whole of the United States are steadily diminishing in numbers, and that some species appear to be threatened with extinction in the not distant future. It is a subject in which but few states have taken any interest. The department urges that the time has come for action. Minnesota is one state that has found it necessary to pass laws prohibiting not only the export of ducks, but even their sale within state limits. Such radical legislation, the department says, in a state where only a few years ago water fowl were plentiful on every lake and waterway, reveals how necessary it is that prohibitive laws be enacted. It is pointed out that the enforcement of moderately stringent protective laws, and the establishment of preserves in the states where water fowl can be sure of shelter and safety, is likely to result not only in averting the threatened extinction of certain species, but in the increase of all water fowl to a point somewhere near their recent abundance.

A Sad Commentary.

With the view of being of some assistance to states that are thinking of enacting laws, the department has recently made an investigation touching the range, abundance and migration of the several species of water fowl. It finds that of the sixty-four species and subspecies of ducks, geese and swans which are found in North America north of Mexico, twenty-four breed in the United States. The most important species are the wood duck, mallard, black duck, teal, canvas-back, red-head and Canada goose.

Most of these species breed in the north central states. It is a sad commentary on our present system of game protection, the department says, that the wood duck, one of the handsomest of our native birds, and one whose breeding range is almost entirely within our boundaries, is the species that has suffered most. So persistently has this duck been pursued that in some sections it has been practically exterminated. Even in states in which it still breeds, as in Delaware and Maryland, on the Atlantic coast, and Illinois and Indiana in the north central states, public sentiment fails to recognize the importance of adequately protecting the bird, and laws still permit it to be destroyed early in the spring. As a result the wood duck is constantly diminishing in numbers and soon is to be known only from the books or by tradition.

Shorten the Open Season.

The department urges that wherever water fowl already breed, or where the conditions are such as to favor their remaining during the summer, every effort should be made to increase the number of breeding birds, both in the spring and during the moulting season, and, wherever possible, game preserves suitable for breeding purposes should be established. Protective laws intended to shorten the open seasons, to prohibit spring shooting, eliminate destructive methods of hunting and to stop sale and export, have, the department notes, often provoked opposition from those who maintain that it is futile to attempt the protection of migratory birds in the north if they are not well protected in their winter feeding grounds in the south.

The department cites many illustrations to show that, if protected, many species that formerly guarded their young in the United States, and were driven away by persecution, would return and occupy old breeding grounds.

Due to Spring Shotting.

The government's investigation shows that the principal causes of the diminished number of wild water fowl are market hunting, spring shooting, and the destruction of the breeding grounds for farming purposes. Previously to twenty years ago market hunting was the principal factor in the diminution of the water fowl. Spring shooting now does the destruction. It is pointed out that years ago all the lakes and marshes in the north central states furnished ideal nesting conditions and unlimited food. In those days every available nook was crowded with water fowl. The Kankakee marshes in Indiana were one of the favorite nesting places. Within the last fifteen or twenty years many of the marshes have been drained and former duck nurseries have become grazing grounds. As late as 1877 twelve species of ducks were raising their young in Indiana and Illinois. At present, the department says, a brood of young wild ducks in this region is rare. Nothing short of the absolute prohibition of spring shooting in every part of the country, the department insists, should be advocated by those who believe that duck shooting should be enjoyed by future generations.

That high collars tend to produce nervous headaches among both men and women is the most recent discovery of a well-known Viennese physician. Quite accidentally the doctor's attention was directed to the very high and very tight style of collar worn by a patient who was always complaining of headaches and giddiness.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. Couldn't Wait a Minute.

A Pittsburg man who suddenly acquired riches was desirous of purchasing a fast horse. He went to a dealer, who sold him an animal and guaranteed that he could trot a mile in 2:10. He took his purchase home and the next day drove down to the track to try him. Much to his disgust, the best the horse could do was a mile in 3:10. He returned to the dealer in a rage and said:

"You told me this horse could trot a mile in 2:10. He can't go a mile better than 3:10."

The dealer looked at him a minute and said:

"Well, what of that? Are you in such a terrible hurry you can't wait a minute?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

The act was somewhat unexpected—
She kissed him, yet I saw that he Remained morose, almost dejected.

I wondered that there were no smiles,
No brightening at his wife's caressing.
I am a bachelor, and wiles
Of womankind are past my guessing.

But when we two friends met again
A little later at the club
He did not offer to explain
Except by showing me the "stub."

TALKING OF REPAIR PLANT.

City May Repair Its Own Asphalt Streets In Future.

The board of public works is considering the advisability of building a plant for street repairing when the crematory is overhauled and the members have been making some investigations along that line.

It is a difficult matter to get patching done where the guarantees have expired and the cost of the necessary apparatus will be small. In Allegheny, Pa., the city has a similar department and repair work has been done at 75 cents a square yard as against $1.35 charged by the paving companies.

LUTHERANS END LABORS.

Convention of German Pastors at Laporte Comes to a Close.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 5.—The place and time for the next pastoral conference of the clergy and teachers of the German Lutheran church for this district was yesterday left to the Fort Wayne conference for selection and future announcement. The conference, which has been in session in this city since Tuesday morning, adjourned at noon and the members departed for their respective homes well satisfied with the hospitality of their reception and entertainment in the Maple city.

The assignment of speakers for the next meeting was stated. Rev. Eirich will prepare a paper on "Private Study of the Pastor," Rev. Claus will treat of "The Gift of Miracles of the Apostolic Age, with Special Reference to Its Duration," and Rev. Schnelke will discuss the question, "What Shall Keep a Minister From Discouragement in the Discharge of His Office?" These topics will be considered through the year by the pastors with a view to engaging in the discussion at the conference.

The present convention was closed with two papers and discussions of special interest and instruction, the first being that of Rev. Lange, of Fort Wayne, on "What Constitutes Proof in Church Trials." In which the speaker studied carefully the classes of evidence which convince the mind. Transgressions of divine law alone can furnish the material for charges in such trials, which places church hearings on a different basis from trials in courts of law. The subject was presented under three heads, namely, circumstantial evidence, written evidence and personal testimony, which are the proper kinds of proof in cases were one who is accused denies his guilt.

The final address, delivered by Rev. Kuehn, of Kendallville, sustained the proposition that between the natural state of man and the state of grace there is no middle ground. The paper, which was doctrinal and argumentative, provoked an interesting discussion and closed the conference very pleasantly and instructively.

BOARD AWARDS CONTRACT.

John Draker Will Haul City Garbage—Routine Business.

At the meeting of the board of public works last night John Draker was awarded the contract for collecting city garbage in 1907 at his bid of $4,675, which was the lowest bid submitted.

Derheimer & Co. received the contract for laying cement sidewalks on the west side of Broadway from Swinney avenue to Taylor street at 71 cents a foot. The assessment roll for paving the alley between Wayne and Berry from Union to Rockhill was confirmed but action was postponed on Lafayette street from Esmond to Wiebke until the thoroughfare can be straightened. Many of the residents on Emily street will lay pavement under private contract and the resolution was changed so as to read from Gay to Oliver instead of Thomas. The resolution for resurfacing Berry street was confirmed.

THE PIANOLA PIANO

A Case Where Imitation Has Proven a Real Help.

WHEN the Pianola Piano was first announced there was a gasp in the Piano world—and a pause while other manufacturers considered what they should do to meet this hitherto unprecedented element of competition.

Competition in selling pianos is keen, more so than in most other lines of trade. When a piano manufacturer loses a sale to a rival he generally knows it. When his salesmen report that sales are going to a competitor in a steadily increasing stream, his anxiety is aroused.

"We must have an interior Player," said the other piano manufacturers in concert. Of course, they could not get the Pianola which the Aeolian Company owned. "Give us the next best Player, give us a good Player, give us any Player"—and there was forthwith a wild scramble.

Imitation of the Pianola Piano has helped its sales. The public is now accustomed to the idea of such an instrument. In a wonderfully short space of time the Pianola Piano has become standardized.

And just here is where the imitation helped the original: People wanted the best interior Player. "I must have the Pianola" meant just one answer—the Pianola Piano.

The Divine Purpose

Naturalists inform us that animals have a perfect knowledge of the herbs that were intended for them by the Creator, and are best suited to their condition.

Everything created by Nature is for some valuable purpose. The fields and mountains are covered with plants of almost numberless description, yet only in comparatively few instances are we able to assign the reason for their existence.

When disease attacks the system, man, in his helpless condition, is often willing to resort to any means that promises a cure. The result is the long list of chemically compounded drugs. In the laboratory of Nature, mother Earth abundantly yields herbs intended solely for the cure of human ailments. The valuable medicinal essence of carefully selected plants are combined in Quaker Herb Extract, the greatest known specific for the stomach, liver and kidneys, acting directly on these organs, it expels all impurities and disease germs from the system. It is for the cure of rheumatism, catarrh, pains in the back and sides, dizziness, dyspepsia, indigestion, belching, fullness after eating, costiveness, so-called blood diseases, etc.

This medicine has proven all claims made for it by the great Dunn.

THE REASON

Why Meyer Bros. Co. Continue to Recommend Vinol.

First: Because it is not a patent medicine and it contains besides tonic iron all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work: therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Second: Because Vinol acts first upon the stomach, creates a healthy appetite, strengthens and tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, and, in a natural manner, restores health and strength.

Third: Because Vinol contains no injurious drugs to react upon the system; every ingredient being named on the label, a patient knows exactly what he is taking.

Fourth: Because it gives such universal satisfaction for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers and to build up the system after severe sickness, and for relieving hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Try Vinol on our guarantee. Meyer Bros. Co.'s two big stores.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fort Wayne, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

NOW

There Are Stoves and Stoves

THERE are a whole lot of cheap, flimsy, poorly-made of the lightest and cheapest material by cheap, inexperienced workmen, half-tin affairs, "so-called" stoves.

—That won't cook or heat properly—that wear out quickly—that endanger many homes by becoming overheated or dropping live coals through open joints and cracks.

—That waste enough fuel in a year to half pay for a good stove.

—That are misrepresented to the stove buyer by pretty catalogue pictures—that are thickly japanned gaudy "burlesques" of real stoves.

—That are supposed to sell at a "cheap" price, but are really expensive.

—That you can't see before you buy—that you have to keep once it's delivered to you, whether you want to or not.

—You know the kind of so-called stoves we mean —the fraud stove—the fake stove—the dear-at-any-price stove.

—And then, on the other hand, there is a certain brand of real good stoves—honestly and well-made of good materials by expert stove workmen.

—That will cook, bake or heat better with less fuel, and last many years longer than the make believe burlesque stove.

The "Garland" Stoves made by the Michigan Stove Company, of Detroit, Mich., the largest makers of stoves and ranges in the world—are that good brand of stoves.

——"Garland" Stoves and Ranges are made by expert stove mechanics.

The Revolving Two-Piece Fire Pot

The revolving fire pots used in "Garlands" are made in two sections, and operate easily and remove all clinkers and ashes, and their lasting qualities are double that of any single fire pot.

By revolving the fire pot all clinkers that form are forced into the center of the grate, from which place they are easily removed.

MONKEY AVENGERS LAY SIEGE TO SHIP

FIFTY SIMIANS AROUSED BY THE DEATH OF ONE OF NUMBER.

Chinese Crew Attacked by Angered Animals and Three Days' Struggle Follows.

New York, Oct. 5.—"Never again," observed Captain Lightoller, master of the British freighter Lowther Castle, as he reflectively contemplated the moon faced visage of his Chinese steward, whose face had recently been criss-crossed with many confusing lines; "never again will I ever permit any crew of mine to speculate in monkeys."

The big freighter, sixty-four days out from Yokohama, had just finished making fast her lines to her pier at the foot of Market street, East river, and the long voyage done, her captain was ready to tell of the exciting incidents which had prevented it from becoming monotonous.

Save for the officers, the crew of the Lowther Castle is composed wholly of Chinese, and while in Yokohama the pig tailed seamen, with celestial thrift, possessed themselves of a half hundred monkeys, and with the captain's permission placed their caged hostages in a space between decks, there to be held at a high ransom at the hands of some New York dealer.

Tale of Two Simians.

The story now goes to central Java, where until a few months ago abided Kiki and Chang, two Simians, who for three gibbering years had swung by their ring tails from the trees of their native jungle. Then came an evil day when a party of hunters made them captive and brought them to Singapore and where they subsequently fell into the hands of Wing Kee, steward of the Lowther Castle.

The two were put in separate cages and immediately began to pine. One more skilled in monkey ways than was Wing Kee advised that they be put in the same cage, but the cages were too small, and as a compromise Kiki, the female, was released one day. She immediately made a dash for the cage of her jungle companion, and the pair chattered so much and so long that it was finally decided to let both go free. This was done, and the released captives capered joyously up and down the decks and up and down the rigging, always in company.

Fireworks to Appease Demons.

Entering the Indian ocean, the freighter soon after ran into a storm, accompanied with much thunder and more lightning. To appease the demons of the storm the Chinese begged the captain to let them set off fireworks, and he good-humoredly consented.

Rockets and Roman candles had no effect on the storm, but they had considerable on the two monkeys. Chang fled, gibbering, to the forward rigging, while Kiki took to the lee rail. Another rocket went hissing from the deck and it so frightened poor Kiki that she jumped straight up in the air. At the same moment the ship lurched heavily to windward, with the result that when Kiki descended from her jump she fell into the sea.

Chang saw what had happened, scrambled down the rigging, danced up and down the rail and then went leaping aloft in the rigging where he clung on to a backstay and watched the little black spot drifting astern until it was lost to view.

Attacked by Monkey.

One of the Chinese sailors was sent aloft to bring Chang back to the deck, but the monkey attacked him so viciously that he made a hurried descent to the deck. Others were sent on the same mission, but they fared no better. For two days and nights the monkey kept to his perch in the rigging, brooding over the wrong that had been done to his mate and planning revenge on the slant eyed crew, whose foolish fireworks had brought about his bereavement. On the third morning he disappeared and it was believed that he had gone overboard, as no trace of him could be found.

That night the ship was sedately ploughing her way through the waters, when a most unearthly racket broke out from below, and before the startled crew knew what it was all about the decks and rigging became black with capering monkeys. Some of the crew rushed below to the cages, to find Chang capering from one to the other. They had all been fastened with the same simple device, and having found out how to open one Chang had set about opening them all, and had just flung the last door open when the men from on deck appeared.

Monkey Hunt for Three Days.

Then began a monkey hunt which was to last for three days and nights. The monkeys seemed to enjoy it more than did their Chinese hunters. Their chief points of attack were the queues of their foes, and dropping from ratline or stay plump on a Chinaman's shoulders, they would seize the coiled pigtail and yank it joyously, scratching and clawing all the time. Thirty-six of the monkeys were eventually secured, but fourteen were killed in the melee, or jumped overboard to avoid capture.

HAS WED SIX MEN; YET NO BIGAMIST

WOMAN WITH A REMARKABLE MATRIMONIAL CAREER.

Has Had Half a Dozen Husbands and Three are Living—Explanation Puzzles a Judge.

Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 5.—Mrs. Francis M. Chaffee has been married to six different men, at least three of whom are living, and none of whom has been divorced. Yet she insisted, when it all came out in court today, that she wasn't a bigamist.

They asked the heroine of this extraordinary matrimonial career, who is 76 years old, to explain. She started in and before she had got half-way through everybody in the courtroom was almost in a state of nervous prostration. The judge had to give it up. Nor was anyone else able to follow Mrs. Chaffee through the intricacies of the puzzle.

It is impossible to tell it all at one time. It would take more than one newspaper to print it. However, here is a sample—the explanation given by Mrs. Chaffee of why she didn't commit bigamy when she married husband No. 5, Adam Crysler, of Detroit.

Just a Sample Case.

Her previous spouses were William Brown, a Canadian; Samuel Allen, of Chicago, Robert Pick, of Toronto, and John Horning, of Delhi, Canada. She said that when she was married to Horning her name, for some reason she didn't make clear, was given on the marriage license as Hannah Brown. Allen, she asserted, had another wife living, so her marriage to him didn't count. Besides, she said she thought he was dead, anyway, as a man had been buried by the Indians near their home in Michigan who, she asserted, was Allen. The marriage to Pick was null, she held, because at that time she was married to Allen. Her marriage to Horning didn't count because she was named Brown in the license. Brown, she averred, was dead and buried.

So it came about that the woman, whatever her name was, became the wife of Crysler. Then when she was living with him in Detroit, she says, she learned he had another wife. She told the court she fled because she feared prosecution for bigamy on account of Crysler's misdeeds.

Refuses to Stay Dead.

Some of her husbands used to bob up at various times and make things unpleasant. For example, she said, she had hardly become the wife of Horning and settled down for a honeymoon when Allen, who was supposed to have been slain by the Indians, appeared on the scene. He isn't dead yet.

Her last adventure in this direction was her marriage to Chaffee, a civil war veteran, who wooed and won the wife and widow after she moved to Pontiac to live with her daughter, Mrs. Emily J. Sherman. Chaffee says Mrs. Sherman got her mother to sign over her property to her and then told the parent to get out. Thereupon husband No. 6 went into court in behalf of his spouse. He asked to be appointed as her guardian, and so the whole story came out.

The judge puzzled over the matter for a while, doubtful about taking action until the matrimonial tangle was straightened out. At last, in despair, he ordered an investigation. Everybody in Pontiac is wondering who can be found to do the job.

EVASION OF MATRIMONY.

If a tax could be levied which would increase annually so long as the bachelors remained deaf to the voice of charmers there might be very good reason for approving it. This would drive the bachelor into a corner, and he would either have to pay monstrously for his mean evasion of his duties as a citizen or at last capitulate and allow himself to be netted.—The World.

L. Renier and F. Renier, boilermakers at the Kerr Murray plant, have taken a leave of absence and will leave in a few days for their home in Pennsylvania.

A Reasonable Plea For the Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

Chemical Laboratory. Telegraphic address, "Diffindo," London. Telephone No. 11029 Central. 20 Cullum St., Fenchurch St., E. C.

London, 9th Aug., 1905.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., Temple Chambers, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended.

(Signed)
John R. Brooke, F. I. C., F. C. S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendations of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man and child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy, one grain of these tablets being strong enough (by test) to digest 3,000 grains of steak, eggs and other foods. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent package or send to us direct for a free trial sample package and you will be surprised at the result. F. A. Stuart Co., 64 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SHOP AND RAIL

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

WABASH ANNUAL MEETING.

Will Authorize $200,000,000 Bond Issue for Improvements.

Next Tuesday the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wabash will take place in Toledo and the result will be awaited with considerable interest, for it is known that the company contemplates raising a big fund to be expended in improvements next year. At this meeting it is exxpected that an issue of bonds in the sum of $200,000,000 will be authorized. About $70,000,000 will be used to retire bonds now in existence and the balance will be used to defray expenses of various improvements. It is said that there will be no change in the directorate. George J. Gould will attend the meeting and afterwards make an inspection of the Wabash lines.

NEW FEATURE AT HOTEL.

Last night nine passenger agents were guests of Manager G. W. Thompson, of the Pennsylvania Lines hotel. Included in the list were H. W. Steinhoff, assistant passenger agent, and C. C. Hill, traveling passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central; J. P. Bu-Vinage, of the Mexican National; P. C. O'Donnel, of the St. Paul, with W. E. Smith, of the Northern Pacific. This was Mr. Smith's first visit, he having only recently taken that position. Mr. Thompson is making his hotel a favorite stopping place for the railway men and they have asked him to provide a room in the building with tables and other furniture for their accommodation and the accommodation of other patrons who may wish to avail themselves of that privilege. Mr. Thompson has taken the matter under advisement and it is quite probable that he will add that feature to his hotel, using for that purpose a large room on the second floor.

PARTY OF HUNTERS.

Ed N. Odenbaugh, traveling passenger agent of the Pennsylvania, has just closed a contract to take twenty-five hunters from Delphos and Ada, Ohio, to Wisconsin, where they spend three weeks in hunting deer. The party will leave November 6 and will go via the Pennsylvania and the Wisconsin Central lines. Mr. Odenbaugh is of the opinion that travel of this kind will be heavy this fall.

WORRY AND OVERWORK

The Cause of Many Cases of Debility.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restore Health and Spirits.

How Building Up the Blood Strengthens the Nerves and Makes People Cheerful and Vigorous.

General debility is caused by mental or physical overwork with imperfect assimilation of nourishment, or by some acute disease from which the vital forces have been prostrated and the entire organism weakened so as not to easily rally. To restore health it is necessary that the blood should be purified and made new. This Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. They actually make rich, new blood, which goes to all parts of the body. They are the most logical remedy and best tonic for all diseases of the blood and nerves.

The case of Mrs. E. M. Spears, of 92 Mt. Pleasant street, Athol, Mass., is a common one and is given here in order that others may be benefited by her experience. She says: "I had been sick for a year from indigestion and general debility brought on by overwork and worry. I tried many remedies, but found no relief. I suffered from swelling of the limbs, loss of appetite and dizzy spells, which became so severe towards night, that I sometimes fainted away. I was bilious and my hands and arms would go to sleep for an hour or two at a time. I was so sleepy all the time that I could hardly keep awake. I had frequent cramps in my limbs and severe pains at the base of my head and in my back. My blood was impoverished. I was afraid to give up and go to bed, fearing that I would never get well.

"About this time Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me by a friend in South Vernon, Vt. I felt better soon after beginning the treatment and continued until I was entirely cured. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a grand medicine for weak women."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure general and nervous debility because they make new blood. They strike at the root of these and other blood diseases, such as rheumatism, anaemia, indigestion and nervous troubles, such as neuralgia, nervousness and spinal weakness. They are guaranteed to be free from opiates or harmful drugs.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

"There's a Reason"

Does the Stove Putty Question Interest You?

Want to know why a stove with puttied joints is expensive?

WHEN a stove manufacturer doesn't know how, or doesn't want to spend the money necessary to make an airtight stove, he plugs up the cracks with stove putty.

Oh yes, that stove will heat as good as any of them for a few weeks, perhaps.

It isn't long, though, before the putty dries up, contracts and falls out.

Then you have a chink or crevice, open to the suction from the chimney.

The valuable gases, which should be burned, are forced up along with the smoke.

So is most of the heat.

If you want to see a stove that is airtight throughout, and which will save you enough on fuel the first winter to pay for itself, come in and examine Cole's Original Hot Blast.

Made without putty, and is guaranteed to remain airtight during the entire life of the stove.

Burns Hard Coal, Soft Coal, Slack, Lignite or Wood.

Ask for free booklet on Scientific Combustion, which will solve the fuel problem for you in one short lesson.

PAINT THAT LASTS

Cheap paints are expensive because they do not last. Our BOYDELL'S READY-MIXED PAINTS are the best because they last the longest, look the best and give entire satisfaction. The test of time proves this. They are made of the purest linseed oil, white lead, zinc and color. An honest painter prefers our READY-MIXED PAINTS because he knows it's to HIS interest to do a good job. It is to YOUR interest to see that he does use them. They are made to last whether used for house, floor, carriage, enamel, interior or roof.
